Britain and U.S. Work Together To Pacify China

May Do in Far East What Locarno Treaty is Doing in Europe, Says British Ambassador

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—America and Great Britain are working together to set China on her feet and to "free her by our friendly assistance from the Communist domination under which at one time a considerable part of her population seemed anxious to fall," Mr. Esmé Howard, the British Ambassador, said at a dinner last night of the Knife and Fork Club and the St. Andrew's Society.

"If England and the Dominions on one side," he said, "and this great republic on the other, can continue to stand shoulder to shoulder to promote peace and prosperity in the Far East by fair play and justice and open and frank dealing with the two great Far Eastern nations, China and Japan, we shall accomplish there what I sincerely hope France and Germany and the other signatories of the Locarno treaties will at last accomplish in Europe—a just and enduring peace."

Premier Pledges Legislature to University Contractor in Letter

prepared asking for special warrants. Mr. Hood, who was examined simultaneously with his chief, when asked if he knew anything about it, declared that he did, as he prepared it on instructions from Mr. Philip.

"Going Beyond Bounds"
The first witness called was Mr. Patrick Philip, who stated that he was Deputy Minister and Public Works Engineer.

Mr. Philip—When did you first come into contact with the University Building?

Witness—I have been in touch with it since 1920.

Mr. Philip—In 1920 there was a loan Act passed?

Yes, for $3,000,000.

Mr. Philip—It has been stated that this vote had been over expended.

"That is correct."

"To what extent?"

"Possibly $1,200,000."

Mr. Philip—When did it first come to your knowledge that the vote was over expended?

Witness—After last session.

"How long?"

Witness—A couple of months.

Mr. Philip—How was it brought to your attention?

Witness—In a conversational way with the Deputy Minister of Finance, who told me that he had better look up our financing in the University, as we were going beyond the bounds.

"Was anything in writing shown to you?"

"No, that I am aware of."

"What did you do as a result of this information?"

"We immediately went to work—the whole department."

Mr. Philip—What did you personally do?

"We all went to work."

"I don't recollect. We, the department, all went to work. There was a conference."

Mr. Philip—The Minister of Public Works, the Comptroller and the Deputy Minister of Finance and myself, I would not be sure about the Comptroller.

Mr. Philip—Did you personally give any instructions?

Witness—Yes. I think I told him to go ahead and look into the matter of our commitments.

"Did Mr. Hood make any return on the subject?"

"Yes."

Mr. Philip asked that all papers in connection with the matter be produced, and particularly he would like the statement made by the chief clerk and accountant to the Deputy Minister.

In answer to further questioning the witness explained that the vote was administered by the Public Works Department, and although the Lands Department was making expenditures in connection with the University lands the whole of the costs were handled through the works department.

On his return with a file of papers Mr. Alfred Hood was sworn and took a seat beside Mr. Philip on the witness stand. From the statement prepared last spring he stated that the expenditures made at that time amounted to $2,420,707, and that it was estimated that commitments were $249,243 in excess of the amount on hand; that it would require $264,578 to complete the work.

"We Went Ahead"
Mr. Philip—Mr. Philip, this shows that there was over-expenditure in February last, February 19, of $249,243.

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Philip—When you got that report what did you do with it?

Is Deprived of Title Of German Army Leader

GEN. VON SEECKT
Who is to be deprived of his title of "army leader" in order that Germany may comply with the Allies' demilitarization demands. He may receive the more innocuous post of chief of staff.

"How many?"
Mr. Hood—Four. The first was for $25,000; the second for $100,000; the third for $50,000, and the last one for $100,000.

Minister Instructed Him
Mr. Philip—When was the first order-in-council prepared for a special warrant?

Mr. Hood—July 7, 1925.

"When were the warrants issued?"
Mr. Hood—We prepared the orders-in-council. The warrants are issued by the treasury.

Mr. Philip—Mr. Philip, we have heard that there were other orders-in-council. Do you know of any other order-in-council that was prepared?

Mr. Philip—No.

Mr. Philip—Did you prepare one, or know of one?

"No."

Mr. Philip—Mr. Hood, do you know?

Mr. Hood—Yes.

"Who had you prepare it?"
"The Deputy Minister, Mr. Philip."

"Do you know of any other order-in-council not acted on?"

"Yes."

Mr. Philip—What was this third order-in-council for?

Witness—$350,000.

Mr. Philip—Mr. Philip, do you know that the first order-in-council for a special warrant was changed and you did not get what you originally asked for?

Mr. Philip—I have no knowledge of it.

Mr. Hood, asked about it, replied that he knew that there was an order-in-council issued for $450,000 or $500,000. He could not remember exactly the sum.

Mr. Philip—That is right. I examined it in the treasury vault, and it was changed. If you put on your specs you can see that it was changed.

Contractor Being Paid Interest
Mr. Philip said that there was still about $700,000 outstanding to the contracting company. Asked how payments were being made, he replied that as far as he knew the contractors were being paid.

Mr. Philip—You have no knowledge of how Ryan is financing?

"I tell, he is not being paid now. I think he is at least being paid."

Mr. Philip—After further questioning, stated that the buildings would have deteriorated if the work had not been done.

The department was not getting the publicity and the credit due to it for having made savings.

Witness—You are getting the publicity now.

Premier Sent Letter
Mr. Hood, who was sent for his file, returned and Mr. Philip on examination found a letter which he read into the notes. It was signed by the Premier and was directed to the Ryan Contracting Company, to the effect that he would advise the contractors that the amount then owing, $112,571.41, would be paid to the contractors' account in the Royal Bank of Canada, Vancouver, together with interest at seven per cent, as soon as the Legislature had made provision to take care of the over-commitments.

Mr. Philip also discovered on the file a memorandum signed by Mr. Philip and addressed to a departmental clerk to the effect that a similar letter to the copy of the one sent by the Premier to the contractors should be given to the Ryan Company in lieu of payments on further accounts.

Mr. Philip—Did you ever hear of any similar system of financing?

Mr. Philip—No, but it is within the bounds of possibility.

Promissory Letter Issued
Further questioning resulted in the answer being given by Mr. Hood that a promissory letter had been issued in settlement of Ryan accounts dated to October 7, amounting to $132,980.10.

Mr. Philip—These letters were sent to the contractor so he could finance with the bank?

Mr. Hood—Yes, that is the reason.

Mr. Philip—Have you any more?

decide which forty-five per cent should rule the country.

"I would like to see such a situation as would make everyone in the House responsible for the government of the country—and not a mere forty-five per cent," declared the speaker.

Eight or nine of last year's Ginger Group, the small corridor bloc, had been re-elected. These eight or nine men, Farmers and Laborites, would say which party would rule the country. The power was theirs.

"Isn't it ridiculous!" declared Mr. Woodworth.

One big thing was the unreality of life at Ottawa. An old servant had once told the speaker that in all his experience no parliamentary debate or oratory had ever changed a single party vote.

"Thus we talk our heads off in the House with the knowledge that it is no use after all," Mr. Woodworth said. "We talk for the newspapers, the galleries and Hanford. Is that as it should be?"

Senator David Proposes Era of Peace in Canada

One of Dominion's Elder Statesmen Suggest Retirement of Mr. King and Mr. Meighen to Unify Country

Quotes Precedent in Case

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—Citing the precedent of Cartier and Dorr, who in pre-Confederation days withdrew temporarily before Tache and Sicotte in order that the contending elements in Canada might become unified on the basis of a truly national policy and applying this to the political situation of the present day with regard to both Mr. King and Mr. Meighen, Senator David, one of Canada's elder statesmen, continues his series of articles on "The Political Crisis," in the French language newspaper La Patrie.

Senator David appreciates that this would involve a great sacrifice for both the Premier and the Opposition, but he intimates that if another election is to be avoided, this step should be taken. The parliamentary scene he returns to his suggestion of a body comprising elements of all parties and develops the idea so as to embrace that of a national committee. "It should be easy," he says, "to form a committee of men having enough ability and patriotism to make the idea of effecting an alliance that is so much desired and of giving to the country the energetic and truly national policy of which it stands so much in need."

Livestock Show to Be Held Dec. 10

Vancouver Exhibition Grounds Will Be Scene of Important Exhibition Next Month

Organized expressly for the purpose of accommodating the livestock breeders of the Province of British Columbia, the first annual Winter livestock show and sale at Vancouver Exhibition grounds on December 10, 11 and 12, promises to be very successful in every way. There is over $5,000 in prizes, and these added to the sale prices should make a very much worth while for the breeders. Prize lists have been forwarded to every breeder in the Province, and if the undertaking is the first of a perpetual series of annual shows destined to develop the livestock and agricultural industry here, every man interested in this industry should make it his business to support the show.

The Dominion Government has given practical demonstration of its enthusiastic interest in the industry of substantial prizes in all classes of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine, and there is no doubt that the array of prizes is a fine one. Arrangements are also being made for buyers from various parts of the country to be present, and for the first time in the history of the show, a special section will be set up for the sale of stock. Provincial cattle associations have also contributed.

Mr. J. K. Matheson, of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, under whose auspices the show and sale are being operated, states that there is the finest chance in the world to make a great permanent annual show and sale for the benefit of B.C. breeders in this show. "I believe that for the local man, it can be made an even greater importance than the summer fair show, great though that is," he declared.

In addition to the cattle, sheep and swine sections, a great fox show will be held, for the first time in the Province. Two thousand dollars in prizes have been offered, and the foxes will also be shown. The poultry show will be very large and the rabbit men are out to duplicate their summer success. The cage bird association will stage a big display also. A dog show will be held. Added to this will be entertainment in the Holmes Show building, every evening, including stock parades. The whole forms a great Winter fair, and in future years a seed, fruit, hay and root show will be added, making the occasion one for a general gathering of all those working for the development of the Province. The general public will be on hand in thousands, and arrangements are in progress for sale of turkeys as well as a drawing for legs of mutton, hampers of beef and turkeys.

The show will be the first real effort to secure a British Columbia market for British Columbia products one prominent Vancouver city official declared.

Former B.C. Architect Dies

VANCOUVER, Nov. 12.—News of the death of Benjamin G. Giff, Saturday, of G. W. Grant, for many years one of the prominent architects of the Province, was received here yesterday.

Born in Picton, N.B., in 1851, Mr. Grant came to British Columbia in 1885, locating first in Victoria. In 1894 he established himself in Vancouver, and in 1902 entered into partnership with A. E. Henderson, under the firm name of Grant & Henderson, which firm continued until 1914, when Mr. Grant retired and took up his residence in California.

The Session

It Comes Through the Dolours—Into Brisker Airs and Less Stagnant Waters—With a Genial Fighting Speech—By Hon. Minister of Finance MacLean—Who Sees No Hope of Reduced Taxation Anywhere—And With Mr. Woodward's Cheerful View That This Government Has Lost Its Nerve About the P. G. E.

The Press Gallery.

Yesterday it was necessary to record the session, and more particularly the debate on the Address, had not into the dolours. Today it is possible to say that the dolours are passed. The parliamentary scene has suffered a sea change into something livelier, into waters less stagnant, into air more genial and brisk.

This change for the better was not solely confined to proceedings in the House. It began this morning in the Public Accounts Committee, where the opposition made great play in the matter of the over-commitments of the Government on the university expenditure. This afternoon the House threw off the shackles of boredom. It welcomed Hon. Minister of Finance MacLean, with characteristic geniality unimpaired, was in fighting form. It welcomed Mr. Harry Neelands, Labor member for South Vancouver, whose speech cried plague on the House both the Government and the opposition. It welcomed, perhaps most of all, Mr. Charles Woodward, senior member for Vancouver, who almost literally brought down the House with the refreshing candor of his criticisms of Government desuetude in the vexed matter of the P. G. E.

And tomorrow it will welcome the honorable and gallant member for Alberni, who promises still further to enliven the debate on the Address, and who is adjourning it today with answer to Mr. Speaker that the House was by no means ready for the question, that there was much food for thought in that matter. There were still, conjecturally, some notable things to be said on the question.

Mr. Speaker Buchanan may yet go down in parliamentary history as the organizer of Pyrrhic victory. Today, by the exercise of what was generally conceded to be a masterly tactfulness, he rescued the House from the horns of the dilemma created yesterday by the incursion of the Ku Klux Klan amendment.

Mr. C. F. Davis, Conservative member for Cowichan-Newcastle, was strong for May on Procedure. Mr. Davis insisted that May on Procedure required that the House should discuss and vote on the amendment—which cheerfully commits the Government to outlawry of the Klan in British Columbia—before it passed on to discussion and vote on the Address.

Premier Oliver, modestly admitting the soft impeachment that he was almost as much of an authority on procedure as May himself, also admitted that Mr. Davis's point of order was new to him. The Premier spent several minutes at the cost of $1,300 an hour, as it was pointed out to him—in vain search for precedents. He was finally obliged to confess that Mr. Davis seemed to be right.

It was an embarrassing moment. There is nothing the House wishes to do less than to discuss or vote on the Ku Klux Klan amendment. Mr. Speaker once again suggested that perhaps the amendment had better be declared altogether out of order. It seemed the House was not prepared to go so far. Very well, then, ruled Mr. Speaker, the debate on the Address would resume, pending his matured decision on the point of order.

Hon. Minister of Finance and Education MacLean descended heavily upon the evening and captured opposition. The indignant opposition had been making great play in the House and country with the alleged desire of the Government for a short session. The Hon. Minister could declare that the Government was mangled. But surely seven weeks was long enough for any self-respecting session. The trouble was, the House had to listen all over again to the opposition's Federal campaign speeches.

For about half an hour the genial but aroused Finance Minister laid about him. He talked about "prune juice" as much of an authority on procedure as May himself, also admitted that Mr. Davis's point of order was new to him. The Premier spent several minutes at the cost of $1,300 an hour, as it was pointed out to him—in vain search for precedents. He was finally obliged to confess that Mr. Davis seemed to be right.

What with one thing and another, it seemed that no patriotic citizen would so far forget himself as to have a long-suffering finance minister at a time like this by talking about reducing taxation. The great question was, thought the minister, where were you going to get the money if you reduced taxation?

"No," said the member for Alberni, "the question is what you do with it after you get it."

Dr. MacLean put in another useful half-hour in showing where part of it had gone in the bottomless pit of P. G. E. finance.

It was Mr. Woodward, however, who proved that time had not withered nor custom assailed the infinite variety of political interest in the past and future of the P. G. E. With the disarming plea that anything inconsequential in his speech was due to an empty stomach, the senior member for Vancouver went on to demonstrate that he was actually full of meat, acquired at many feasts of all the good things pertaining to the P. G. E.

The senior member pointed that some people, and responsible people at that, were saying of the P. G. E., as the ancient tribune had said of Carthage, that it must be destroyed. Mr. Woodward would have none of this doctrine.

trine. To destroy the P. G. E. might be to destroy a goose, the senior member implied, but it would certainly be to destroy a goose that might yet lay many a golden egg for the Province.

Mr. Woodward gave the House some interesting statistics on the potential wealth tributary to the P. G. E. There was $252,000,000 worth of timber alone on the line of the railway. The House was interested. The House bestowed itself, and took industrious notes of these figures. But most of all the House was stirred to warm approval of the senior member when he gave the Government his candid opinion of its incompetence and ineptitude in dealing with the P. G. E.

He had asked why the Government did not finish the P. G. E. A "prominent Liberal" had told him that the Government had lost its nerve.

"Imagine the Government losing its nerve about anything," said Mr. Woodward; and even the Premier was compelled to join in the laughter evoked.

"Why, Mr. Speaker," said the senior member, in another much-rehearsed passage, "if you and I managed our business as this Government has managed the P. G. E., they'd put us in an asylum."

The Hon. First Minister managed to put a good face on his ostensible enjoyment of a third home thrust, which came when Mr. Woodward said he had made out an unanswerable case to show that the Government could neither build a railway nor run it. Mr. Woodward impressed all sides of the House with his closing suggestion, that the P. G. E. should be put into the hands of a commission of three, free of political influence, and chosen with an eye single to their organizing and executive ability.

Majorities, Not Groups, Count In Parliament

Mr. Meighen Bound to Be Called Upon If Government Is Defeated, Says Mr. J. S. Ewart

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—"Constitutional practice takes notice of majorities and not of groups," says J. S. Ewart, K.C., in reply to questions addressed to him by Mr. N. Campbell, Progressive member-elect for MacKenzie, Sask. Mr. Campbell's questions were:

1. Can the Governor-General ignore the leader of the largest group in the House of Commons in giving his assent to a bill of law for another election?

2. If the King Government meets Parliament, as it now appears that it intends to do, and is defeated in the House, should His Excellency dissolve Parliament or should he call on the leader of the largest group to form a government?

Mr. Ewart has replied to the questions as follows:

"Constitutional practice takes notice of majorities in the Commons and not of groups. Ignore the word 'groups' as irrelevant and difficulties disappear. As long as the Government is sustained by the majority of the members it remains in office. The largest 'group' may think that the majority is wrong, but if in opposing the Government it is only a minority in the division list, it is an opposition and nothing more."

"If the Governor-General were advised to bring on another election, he would not consult with the opposition and the fact that the largest 'group' sat on opposition benches would not affect him. If the Government should resign, the Governor-General would almost certainly ask Mr. Meighen to form an administration, but he would do that not on the principle that the leader of the largest 'group' has, as such, any right to priority, but because Mr. Meighen would, under the circumstances, have the best chance of obtaining support in the Commons. Should Mr. Meighen, after being called upon, propose another appeal to the electors, His Excellency would almost certainly give his sanction."

Organized Labor Seeks Many Measures of Amelioration

Social Improvements Pressed by Labor Delegation—Workmen's Compensation Amendments Are Sought—Major Burde Says Sawmill Workers Underpaid

If a child is not given a chance to learn to work when young, the chances were that it never will learn, according to an opinion of Premier Oliver, expressed yesterday morning, when he was recording his objection to a proposed amendment to the Factory Act, presented by a delegation representing the Trades and Labor Congress. The amendment, as follows, sought to curtail and restrict juvenile labor: "That action be taken to strike out those sections of the Act wherein permission is given children of any age to be employed in the business of curing fish or packing fruit and the work incidental thereto, during times of the salmon runs, or runs of other classes of fish, and during the respective fruit seasons."

"That action be taken to strike out the clause which removes the limit upon hours children may be employed, reading as follows: 'Provided further that the limitations upon the hours of labor, the hours of commencing and cessation of work, as set forth in the Act, shall not be binding upon the employers of any child, young woman or girl in the business of curing or packing fruit, or fruit packing within the time or times aforesaid.'"

Premier Oliver declared that he had no objection to restriction of the hours of labor for children, but he did not favor any legislation that would prevent them working.

Work Good for All
"You would not allow a child, seven or eight years of age, to work in a factory, would you?" asked a member of the delegation.

"Sure I would," the Premier returned. "I worked when I was seven years old. It never hurts a child to work at any age."

Mr. P. Bengough, spokesman for the delegation, submitted ten recommendations relative to alterations in the Workmen's Compensation Act. First: It was suggested that a wider definition be given the term "accidents" under the meaning of the Act.

Second: All compensation to be based on the rate of wages being paid to workmen at the time of accident.

Third: In all cases of dispute on questions of physical disability the workman shall have the right of appeal from the decision of the Board's medical adviser to an independent medical board consisting of three doctors nominated by the British Columbia Medical Association.

Attorney-General Manson explained that under present arrangements the best medical talent in the province had been secured by the Board, and he considered that conditions in that respect were good. Appointment of an independent Board would add to administration costs and would not, he thought, produce any better results.

Fourth: Increase of compensation from sixty-two per cent to sixty-six and two-thirds per cent in the Province of Ontario and Manitoba.

Attorney-General Manson explained that under present arrangements the best medical talent in the province had been secured by the Board, and he considered that conditions in that respect were good. Appointment of an independent Board would add to administration costs and would not, he thought, produce any better results.

Fifth: Where the injured workman has been transported from the place of accident to a doctor or hospital outside the province, the cost of transportation shall be provided back to the original point in addition to any compensation given.

Six: No commutation of compensation due under the Act shall be made without the consent of the injured workman. Compensation shall be payable for the full period during which earning capacity is impaired.

Hon. Mr. Manson declared that it was his opinion that Mr. Wyn, chairman of the Board, believed that such was now the case. Personally, he said, he was in favor of the recommendation because disposition of his compensation should be at the option of the injured workman.

Seven: The Board shall defray all hospital charges of every description. It shall be illegal for a hospital to render any bill whatever to a workman for services rendered him while a patient under the terms of the Act.

Eight: The initial waiting period of three days shall be duly compensated for in all cases where incapacity extends that period.

Nine: That the Act be amended to bring casual workers within its scope.

Premier Approves Plan
The Attorney-General believed that such a regulation would be exceedingly difficult to administer. Mr. C. P. Moriarty, of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, had made careful representations to him regarding the matter, and he believed that so many difficulties would be encountered that it would prove impractical. One of the delegation suggested that a system of stamps could be employed to solve the difficulty. Premier Oliver declared his approval of the plan, and it was intimated that an early effort would be made to devise a system whereby casual workers could be protected.

Ten: That death claims be paid in full to the parents in cases where single men were killed.

Mr. F. A. Brown, Labor member for Burnaby, declared that under present conditions it was cheaper when single employees were killed than it was to meet expenses incidental to injury.

"Defensive" Attitude
Major R. J. Burde, Alberni, criticized the Board on the ground that it always adopted a defensive attitude when dealing with workmen. He presented compensation claims. The Board was always ready to argue why a man should not be given compensation when it would be most concerned with securing all possible lawful assistance for those it was forced to help.

"I don't believe that belief is entirely justified," interjected the Attorney-General.

Premier Oliver thought the attitude of the Board grew from the many attempts which had been made to impose upon it. As Premier he had found that eighty per cent of his time he was forced on the defensive.

"That is probably because of the life you have led," the Alberni member observed.

Mothers' Pensions Act
Three recommendations having to do with the Mothers' Pensions Act were made by the delegation. First: The word "indigent" be eliminated from the regulations of the Board and the benefits of the Act be extended to all cases where there are not adequate means of support.

Hon. Mr. Manson was dubious as to the value of making too many changes in the Pensions Act. People were continually attempting to impose on the board administrative regulations. There were people who were quite willing to forsake their own flesh and blood if they could transmute the responsibility on the state. He had known, he said, of bank managers who had tried to put their own sisters under the terms of the Mothers' Pensions Act in order that they might be relieved of responsibility.

Two—Widows, with or without children, to be brought within the terms of the act.

Three—That the act be amended to allow the possession of personal property up to $1,000, or real property assessed at not more than $2,000.

Eight-Hour Bill
The delegation recommended the extension and enforcement of the eight-hour-day principle to all industries within the province.

Hon. Mr. Manson explained that, while the Government welcomed suggestions relative to the act, it was taking to itself considerable credit for the progress made during the past year.

Major R. J. Burde, but the Government had done much towards its successful operation. The plan was to start at the bottom and to work upwards gradually, so that the law would become a real factor in the economic system of the Province.

Compensation was asked for police court witnesses, and it was pointed out that a direct hardship was now being imposed on witnesses summoned to give evidence. In many cases the loss of pay sustained by witnesses exceeded the penalty imposed on convicted persons.

Major Burde declared that he knew of a case where the head sawyer of a mill was forced to attend court as a witness, and it had been necessary to close down the mill until he returned.

The Attorney-General explained his sympathy, but pointed out that the case was one with which the Federal authorities must deal. It might be possible to induce the Federal authorities to increase the rate of fees.

Old Age Pensions
The delegation urged the Government to continue its efforts to cooperate with other provinces and the Federal Government in order that adequate old age pensions be instituted. In the meantime it was held that grants should be made to aged persons without means of support.

"We have gone on record three distinct times as favoring a system of old age pensions," Hon. Mr. Hoon, Provincial Secretary, said.

He said the case was one with which the Federal authorities must deal. It might be possible to induce the Federal authorities to increase the rate of fees.

Minimum Wage Act
The recommendation made by the delegation was that this Act should be amended to include boys by substituting the word "minors" instead of "girls under eighteen."

Major Burde announced that he intended to test the feeling of the Legislature, the present session on its attitude in respect to a minimum wage act for white workers in sawmills. Such workmen, he said, were being paid as low as $2.30 a day of eight hours, and were the poorest paid class in British Columbia. They had no organization and little chance of getting one.

The Premier thought that there was a chance that a law would drive the sawmill industry into the hands of Hindus and Japanese.

"I disagree," Major Burde retorted. "It was said that the eight-hour day bill would do the same thing when the Government was making it the target of its objection, but such a result has not occurred."

Automobile Injury Insurance
Other recommendations contained in the representations made by the delegation proposed an act to compel automobile owners to carry insurance against physical or property injury to others; that the Government take steps to bring in legislation on unemployment insurance; that regulations be enacted to protect workmen on building and excavation; that automobile mechanics be licensed and be forced to meet a certain standard of efficiency.

Amendments to the Municipal Act requesting the granting of the franchise to every person, male and female, in all cities and municipalities, who is a British subject of twenty-one years, and to all from whom a poll tax is collected. That legislation be passed prohibiting any person to vote in any more than one polling division in any city or municipal election. That legislation abolishing property qualifications for all elective officers in cities and municipalities be passed.

The Premier promised the delegation that the recommendations made would receive the close consideration of the Government.

Obituary
HO—There passed away in this city early Wednesday morning Lee Ho, aged fifty-nine years, who was born in Hong Kong, China, and had been a resident in Victoria for the last forty years, lately residing at Royal Oak. The body is lying in state at the funeral home of the late Mr. Ho, 1111-1113, where service will be held Sunday, November 22, at 2 o'clock. Later the remains will be forwarded to China for interment.

EDWARDS—Funeral service was held at the Thomson Funeral Home, 1625 Quadra Street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the late Samuel Wesley Edwards, who passed away very suddenly at the family residence, 517 Michigan Street, Tuesday morning. The Rev. Dr. Glen Davies gave a very impressive address and the hymns sung were "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, is Ended," and "Abide With Me." Mr. Lawton Partington presiding at the organ. There was an unusually large attendance of sympathizing friends present and a special car had to be used to convey the beautiful floral decorations and testimony to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Edwards was held by his many friends. Members of the Masonic Lodge, L. A. P. & A. M., read the Masonic burial service. The honorary pallbearers were: Most Worshipful Brothers William Henderson, Angus McKeown and Stephen Jones, Right Worshipful Brothers G. L. Milner and W. H. F. Richards and Worshipful Brother R. R. Taylor. The active pallbearers were: Worshipful Brothers Robert Hetherington, Chas. Nickerson and J. R. Saunders. Brothers E. Dickinson, J. L. Mosher and J. Sheppard. The body was laid to rest in the family plot at Rose Bay cemetery.

the eighty miles remaining between Queen and Prince George.

Major Burde—He precise, it is eighty-two miles.

"By finishing this connection," went on the speaker, "it would mean but one loading for goods from the prairies to Vancouver, and some of the freight would travel that way, bringing revenues to the Province."

Hates Roadwork
Continuing, he asked what had happened to the Hat Creek mines, which had promised to produce a large tonnage for the P.G.E. Possibly the Government could give the answer.

The rates for freight were exorbitantly high on the P.G.E., and he considered that the Government should reduce them. Premier Oliver had explained that the road was losing too much now, but that was a proper argument. With equitable rates the country would develop.

"I think it is false economy to charge monopolistic rates, for the reason that the farmers and settlers cannot help themselves. The P.G.E. should be considered in the light of being a colonization road."

The Vancouver member insisted that the road be completed to Prince George, declaring that no good reason had been given for failing to have done so. "I cannot understand it. This part of the road is all paid for. It has not gone into bankruptcy for the Government has stood behind it and the electors have stood behind the Government."

Major Burde—Not for long.

If conditions were not changed, added Mr. Woodward, the P.G.E. would soon go broke.

Control Must Come
"To get the best and most efficient and economical development of the P.G.E. must be free from Government control and politics," he said, adding that it should be operated by a commission composed of two men, in addition to Mr. Thomas Kilpatrick, the present manager.

These men should run the road as a business proposition. All Government-made-up of politicians, and this one was no exception. The management was wasteful, foolish and incompetent. The larger part of the unfinished section had been practically completed in 1913, the steel was on the ground and the grading was nearly done. The iron for the Cottonwood bridge had been fabricated and the Government was paying storage on it at Walkerville, Ontario.

Railway ties had been cut and were on the ground, but were deteriorating, and practically everything was in readiness, but the Government was still wondering whether or not to scrap the section. He computed the cost of the ties, bridge timber, and other charges incurred to be $2,979,000, and still with these commitments and expenditures, no progress was being made.

Nerve Unit, Mr. says He had asked one prominent Liberal, said Mr. Woodward, why the Government had not completed the line to Prince George, and was told that they had lost their nerve.

"Look at the men constituting that Government and imagine them losing their nerve on anything!" exclaimed Mr. Woodward amid applause from the Opposition benches.

In the interests of the Province as a whole, he said, the road should be completed through to Prince George.

City & District

Had No License—For driving a motor vehicle without having taken out a license for it, Allan Jeeves was fined $10 in police court yesterday.

Bank Clearings—Clearings for the week ending yesterday were $1,794,320, as compared with $1,948,874 in the corresponding week of 1924.

Meeting Cancelled—The session of the Saanich Police Commission, which was scheduled to take place tonight at the Municipal Hall at Royal Oak, has been cancelled. The Saanich Council, however, will convene at 8 p.m.

City Temple Themes—At the City Temple Sunday morning, Dr. Clem Davies will preach on "The Ku Klux Klan and Roman Catholicism," and in the evening his subject will be "Shall We Join the Ku Klux Klan?"

Chamber Meeting—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their weekly luncheon today in the dining-room of the organization. This luncheon will be the last of the business meeting of the Chamber.

Knocked Down by Car—Mr. George Dandridge, elderly merchant, was knocked down while crossing Government Street yesterday afternoon, by an automobile driven by Mr. William Smith. It is believed to have been seriously injured.

Commemorative Anniversary—The eighth anniversary of the inception of the Victoria unit of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association will be celebrated by that organization with a banquet and smoking concert on Wednesday evening, December 15. It was decided last night by members of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, in monthly session, in their club premises, Fort Street.

Water Shortage Ends—It was stated at the B. C. Electric Railway of-fices yesterday that the recent rain had now been sufficient to warrant the suspension of the Brentwood auxiliary plant and to withdraw the warning notice to large consumers of electric power. While the company will continue to take its full share from Goldstream for the present, the danger of water shortage is now over, it is stated.

Runaways Found—Missing for eight days, a boy named Alan ran away from a scholastic institution at Shawanigan Lake, Aubrey Babin and Stanley Melrose, sixteen and seventeen years old respectively, have been located in Vancouver and will be brought back to their parents, according to the Provincial police. Fearing punishment for some minor offence, it is alleged, the boys ran away from school. They were recognized through newspaper descriptions circulated on Wednesday.

Rear Lights Neglected—Auto owners who use Meats Street for parking and neglect to have their rear lights turned on were given a warning in a very practical way in police court yesterday, when a fine was inflicted by the magistrate. The police explained that there were numerous violations and warning had repeatedly been given, but owners continued to violate the rule. The subject was dangerous in consequence, because it was narrow, and there was considerable traffic on it.

Public Schools Club—A preliminary meeting of all those interested in the formation of the British Isles Public Schools Club will be held at the old Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom, Quadra Street, at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, November 18. The club will be for school and varsity men who may be interested in this project are cordially invited. Suitable premises have already been located and a specifically mentioned of ways and means will enable this proposed club to be inaugurated without further delay.

Fourteenth Banquet—His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Nichol will be the guest of honor at the annual commemorative banquet of the No. 6 Company, Fourteenth of Canada, which will be held here tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Armory, Bay Street, when Colonel C. F. Peck, V. C., M. P., will deliver an address on the military operations of 1917. Members of the organization from Vancouver will attend, and there will be military guests from the Forty-Ninth of Seattle and Port Angeles.

City Combats Opposition to Water Measure

Furnishes Legislature With a Memorandum Setting Forth Its Side of Case—Answers Price Objection

Combating Saanich's opposition to the proposed private bill seeking validation by legislation of the Esquimalt Waterworks expropriation, the city yesterday furnished every member of the Legislature with a memorandum setting forth the city's side of the case, and answering the objections raised by Saanich and other interests of the city who recently presented a petition.

The memorandum explains that legislation is sought for the reason that the city can only acquire by legislation the water rights of the Esquimalt company. Legislation is also required to enable the water company to distribute its capital assets among its city services.

In 1924, the wholesale cost of water to the city was 9.05 cents per 1,000 gallons, the memorandum says; but this cost does not include amounts for replacements, contingencies or reserve, nor any provision for enlargements of the water supply. Thus, it points out, the rate of 10c per 1,000 gallons charged Saanich is a reasonable one.

Answering another objection made by opponents of the legislation, the memorandum says that if the city took 5,000,000 gallons a day from the Esquimalt Waterworks Company for a period of five years, as required by statute, it would cost the city $247,000, which is approximately one-half of the net purchase price of the whole Esquimalt Waterworks undertaking. After this expenditure of $247,000, the city would have absolutely nothing to show for the money.

In arriving at the 9.05c figure, the water used for city services and the estimated leakage in the distribution system have not been omitted from the calculation, the memorandum says.

Indigestion
When chronic, is best relieved by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

In most cases, indigestion results from torpid liver and sluggish bowel action. Tablets for the stomach and aid to digestion fail in this chronic form of indigestion. You must get the filtering and excretory organs right before you can expect permanent relief and this is best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Chronic indigestion is a very common condition. On this account many suffer for years not realizing that relief is at hand in the form of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Headaches, biliousness, spells of constipation and diarrhoea are among the accompanying ailments. What a relief it would be to be free of this condition which makes one feel so miserable and it is so easy by using this well-known regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Minister Holds Out No Hope of Lower Taxation

However, he said, there might be a loss of $140,000, which would bring the total to twenty per cent.

Succession Duty
An agitation had been made for the abolition of the succession duty tax, but the tax provided the Government with revenue amounting to $700,000 annually, and no means had been suggested of making up that sum.

The speaker touched briefly on the mineral tax, and said that he could not see how the tax could be decreased.

The revenue received under the present taxation system from British Columbia mines amounted to a little over $1,000,000 yearly, Hon. Dr. MacLean announced. This year it was estimated that the mineral production of the Province would reach a valuation of $60,000,000, and he did not think that one-twelfth of that amount contributed in taxes was excessive.

Personal Property Tax
Dr. MacLean declared that he could not see eye to eye with those who advocated the abolition of the Personal Property tax. If the tax were suspended, he said, Oriental merchants and owners of fishing boats would escape payment because they kept no books, and the only method the Government had to extract revenue from them was to tax their stock. Also many firms had branch businesses in British Columbia, and it was the practice to cut prices of commodities held to such houses so close that little or no profit could be shown, it all being collected by the main branches located outside the Province.

"In view of the widely expressed opinion, particularly among the merchants of the Province that personal property is not an equitable basis of taxation, the taxation officials and myself have devoted a great deal of study to the subject of taxation, and we are now giving consideration to a suggestion that we substitute a 'gross income' tax for the Personal Property tax," the speaker added.

The Government Road
The financial condition of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was reviewed briefly by the Minister, and he explained the history of the road so far as finances were concerned. Up to June 30 of the present year, the railroad owed the Government a total of $47,500,000. The road had not cost that much, of course, but the debt had been increased by interest charges and loss in operation.

C.N.R. Removes Arbitrariness on Island Lumber
Mr. J. E. Dalrymple Says Withdrawal Will Affect Certain Ports, But Apparently Not Victoria As Yet

Follows Action of G.N.R.

Lumber arbitrariness from certain points on the Canadian National Railway system on Vancouver Island to United States points, Duluth and eastward thereof, are to be removed, according to a telegram received last evening by Mr. C. F. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, from Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the railway in charge of the freight department.

Mr. Schwengers immediately wired back a reply, asking him to clarify the meaning of the telegram, and to the points to be removed from the announcement include Victoria.

While this announcement is not directly connected with that made yesterday from Great Northern Railway sources, it is inevitably associated in the minds of officers of the Chamber of Commerce, that the Great Northern Railway was stated as ready to give Mainland rates on eastbound lumber, originating from the ports of Chemainus, Glenora, Isles and Honey. Nothing was said about Victoria, so Mr. Schwengers got in touch yesterday with Mr. M. J. Costello, G.N.R. western traffic manager, and the result is that the official says the rate does not extend to this port, on the ground that the Great Northern Railway "has no interest and no accommodation for handling traffic" at this port.

Mr. Schwengers said he was also awaiting a communication from the Canadian Pacific Railway in connection with the subject.

Delegates Bring News of Parley

Two Canadian Representatives Back From Imperial Press-Parley at Melbourne

"On this side we hear much of Labor's attitude, political and otherwise, in Australia," said Mr. C. F. Crandall, well-known Canadian publisher, on his return yesterday on board the liner Aorangi from the Imperial Press Conference. "Except in certain lines of industry, shipping and transportation not being Australian born, the great majority of the Australian workers are good hard workers, as for instance the printers and the building trades. A large employer of labor told me that the Australian building trades are the best in the world and other employers are.

Two Fine Addresses

Discussing the recent conference in

Mr. W. A. Craik, representing the Canadian periodical press, who also returned with Mr. Crandall, indicated that the election in Australia was being fought on the keenest lines and that the poll for the Senate was becoming as much, if not more, interest than that of the House of Representatives, as the Labor party stood to recover its former predominance in the Upper House.

The Canadian-Australian treaty, both Mr. Crandall and Mr. Craik agreed, is regarded as too favorable to Canada and was described down there as a "jug handled agreement" from the Commonwealth standpoint. They declare it is occupying no place in the present political contest, at both delegates were greatly interested in the peculiar status of Canadian politics.

Turkish President Is Host at Official Dinner Dance

ANGORA, Turkey, Nov. 12.—President Mustafa Kemal is giving an official dinner dance, which was attended by all members of the cabinet and their wives, and also members of the diplomatic corps. The President made a speech in which he asked all the Turkish women present to uncover their faces and their entire heads.

The whole company then danced an old-time Turkish dance which Mustafa Kemal is eager to make popular. The men of the party also were bareheaded. Heretofore Turkish women who attended mixed parties where there were non-Turkish, and especially who danced with non-Turkish, were regarded as untrue to the Moslem faith.

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley S'vanes

Frocks that flare in front and that present a new and more interesting cut are a welcome change from the chemise dress.

There are several reasons why the new with in clothes is a youthful looking as a beloved straight line. The first is that frocks are worn very short and straight from shoulder to hip and the fulness below has the bell-like grace of a charming flower. The third is that they are usually made in soft silks, such as crepe satin, with Canton, Canton crepe, etc., that fall softly and do not enlarge the figure.

International Amateur Hockey Is Gaining Favor With Manitoba Fans

Winnipeggers Looking Forward to Some Old-Time Peppy Fixtures in Simon-Pure League of Six Teams—Series With Cougars Has Been Canceled

WINNIPEG, Nov. 12.—The newly-formed International Amateur Hockey Club—the Central League—is gaining wide favor among hockey fans of this city, and prospects of old-time peppy league fixtures are in sight for this winter. Winnipeg will be represented in the league by the Maroons, composed of some of the best talent in the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, while the United States teams have many former star Manitoba players, and the Soo, Ont., aggregation, a classy thruput of Ontario puckchases. Many of the players are of championship class, and in their workouts have shown bright prospects.

University School Wins Rugby Match

Defeats Rockland's Academy by 29 to Nil at Mt. Tolle in One-Sided Match

The University School won a very one-sided rugby game from Rockland's Academy yesterday afternoon at the University School grounds by 29 to 0. The Academy's first kickoff and drove the ball down to the University School's twenty-yard line. Graham, snappy halfback of the University, took the ball and drove it seventy-five yards to a touchdown. Tye, star three-quarter, was forced to leave the field owing to injuries received in previous games. With fourteen men on the field opposing the Rocks, the University battled hard and before half time Moore and Miller scored touchdowns each.

In the second half, Moore scored twice for the University School. The latter try was made after a beautiful eighty-yard run. Henderson, of the Academy, was injured and was forced to leave the game. Before the final whistle Cotton and MacLachlan both scored for the University School. Cotton converted on four occasions. The lineup:

Rocklands—MacCone, Duke, Diggs, Billingsley, Mallek, Stavikow, Dixon, Haylop, Buller, Henderson, Moore, Auchenhole, Smith, Rumble and Bapty.

University School—Begg, Sturgis, Colleen, MacCloud, Goltzen, Golema, MacLachlan (1), O'Shea, Graham, Tye, Cotton, Moore, Miller, MacLachlan (2), Peabody.

Draw Announced for Calcutta Foursomes of Victoria Golf Club

The draw was made yesterday for the first round of the Calcutta foursomes competition of the Victoria Golf Club. The first round of this competition must be played by November 22; the second round by November 29 and the third round by December 6, the semi-final round by December 13 and the final round by December 22. Players who have failed to play their matches by these dates will be scratched. Competitors are asked to get in touch with their partners and opponents and arrange times for matches to be played.

The combined handicap of each couple has been divided by four and the result, expressed in holes, will be the handicap allowed. In a match the lower will be deducted from the higher handicap. In case of a halved match it will have to be played again unless the handicaps are equal, in which case it will be necessary to play one or more holes only. Prizes will be awarded the winning and second couples. All matches will be at eighteen holes and there will be an entrance fee of one dollar for each player, which must be paid to the secretary before taking part in the competition. The draw and net handicap follow:

J. V. Bertin and H. Baird, 5 1/2; vs. L. C. Boyd and H. H. Shandley, 9; vs. W. H. MacInnes and H. E. Beasley, 10 1/2; vs. H. E. Patterson and F. N. Nation, 7 1/2; vs. A. H. Ford and C. J. Prior, 8; vs. J. D. Virtue and Col. G. C. Bennett, 10 1/2; vs. R. H. Swinerton and A. C. Watts-Jones, 9; vs. A. E. Haynes and H. J. Grant, 9 1/2; vs. Carew Martin and Major Hogg, 8; vs. A. T. Goward and J. P. Babcock, 7 1/2; vs. H. J. Davis and Dr. J. D. Hunter, 8 1/2; vs. J. de Sussanet and J. Hutchison, 9 1/2; vs. H. G. Garrett and R. A. Buchanan, 7 1/2; vs. E. A. Burton and A. D. King, 7; vs. H. W. R. Moore and J. C. Barnard, 8 1/2; vs. H. P. Johnson and A. F. Beasley, 11; vs. C. W. Pangman and H. Halsterman, 8 1/2; vs. Dr. D. M. Biddle and W. C. Murray, 10 1/2; vs. W. ## Old Boys Win Soccer Match

Take Honors in First Fixture of Kind at Shawinigan School by Three to One

The first Old Boys' soccer match against Shawinigan Lake School was played last Saturday, when a party of nine Old Boys went by car from Victoria to Shawinigan, meeting six others from Duncan. The school, although having three of their best men absent, played a very spirited game against heavy odds.

During the first half E. L. Musgrave scored the first goal for the Old Boys, which he shortly followed with another. As sixteen Old Boys were present, five changed places at half-time. In the second half a good goal was scored for the school by Cotton, followed by one for their opponents by L. W. Niel, partly owing to Mr. Lonsdale, the goalkeeper, having previously hurt his hand.

After the football match the first Old Boys' dinner was held. The Old Boys present were: R. J. Mellis, J. F. Mellis, K. Craig, R. Inglis, L. W. Niel and R. Price, from Duncan; and R. Schwenger, J. O'Leary, K. O'Leary, L. Inglis, K. Haller, G. Best, N. Jones, R. J. Musgrave and E. L. Musgrave, from Victoria, and M. McGill, of Shawinigan Lake.

Eagles Win First Game From Colonist In Bowling League

The first game in the City Bowling League was played last night in the Arcade Alley, between the Eagles and Colonist teams.

While the bowlers showed the results of their long rest since last season's games, there were some fair individual scores made. Bill Falrall made high score for the Eagles with 183. Harness, for The Colonist made 183.

Foley Loses to Frayne

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Nov. 12.—Marty Foley, Tacoma light heavyweight, absorbed a lot of punishment in his six-round bout here last night and lost a decision to Ted Frayne, Seattle.

In the semi-final Ray Clark, 149 pounds, Bellingham, gained a technical knockout over Huggy Cookson, Seattle, in the fifth round of their scheduled six-round bout.

Al Gallagher, 137 pounds, Vancouver, B.C., and Johnny Woods, Seattle, fought a four-round draw.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old Un"

It looks as though the public-spirited action of the VETERANS' FOOTBALL CLUB in entering a team to represent Victoria in the Pacific Coast League was doing a good deal to improve the quality of soccer here.

At any rate, to judge from the attendance drawn by the Veterans, their brand of football appeals to the "fans."

And the team apparently has created a good impression on other fields.

The Vancouver R.U.N. was very complimentary in a "pasting reference" to the wonderful fighting qualities of Victoria Veterans' in their game against St. Salvator's.

"A goal down and having only nine men on the field these Islanders nevertheless fought like tigers to stem the tide. It was amazing the enthusiasm they showed under heavy handicap, for the men absent included MCGORMICK, the big centre half from Ladysmith, and NOBBY CLARK, formerly of Nanaimo."

What sounds like the most likely and genuine statement of his intentions to have made to Martin Burke last Sunday?

To the effect that he was not going to fight again, that he had quit the ring unless given what he wished in the way of money. He and his wife were making a success in pictures and he saw no reason why he should fight.

And this child can see no earthly reason why he should fight if he doesn't want to, but also see no earthly reason why he should still be called a champion fighter when he has changed his business and is now a screen actor.

And also see no earthly reason why the public should be gulled with false stories of his intended ring activities intended to boost the gate receipts at moving picture shows.

But we all know poor old BARNUM'S celebrated saying:
Bowling is certainly coming into its own. The Stockholm Bowlingforbund (all that) is to hold an international tournament under Amateur Bowling Congress rules and on American-built alleys in Stockholm during May, 1926.

The Canadian, Finnish, German, Dutch and clubs of several other countries have been invited, and there will be competition in the five-man, two-man and individual classes, the grand prize for the five-man team being a perpetual trophy donated by the United Bowling Clubs and representing the world's championship.

It is also regarded as an assured fact that bowling will be made a feature of the next Olympic Games.

Childs and Griffiths are favored as The Colonist "reps" at "The Games."

Babe Dye Is Early Hockey Casualty

Is Cut Over Eye Shortly After Election as Captain of St. Patricks at Toronto

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—After electing Coel ("Babe") Dye as captain, the St. Patricks N.H.L. team held their initial workout of the season, yesterday with thirteen players reporting for duty. Dye had only been on the ice for half a minute when he was cut over the eye by John Ross Roach's stick. Dye was back on the ice in a few minutes, however, but did not get loose to any extent. "Happy" Day was the one to catch the railbirds' eyes. Day has recently returned from Western Canada, where he has been harvesting, and reported for the practice today in mid-season form. Porter, substitute goalie from Edmonton, is considerably older than was first reported. He handles himself like a veteran and should be a useful player for St. Patricks.

Alberta Featherweight To Fight in New York

CALGARY, Nov. 12.—"Young" Cowie, Alberta featherweight champion, and the only Canadian selected to compete in a state tournament at New York on November 24 under the direction of Jimmy De Forest, has left for that city. Cowie is a promising fighter who developed into a knockout artist within the last two years.

Vic Foley Matched Against Bud Ridley

PORTLAND, Nov. 12.—Vic Foley, Bantamweight champion of Canada, will meet Bud Ridley, of Seattle, here November 20. On the same card there will be a six-round bout between George McCormick, of Spokane, and Cal Herman, of Salt Lake City.

Clonic Tait Matched With World's Champion

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—It is announced here that Jimmy Goodrich, world's lightweight champion, has been matched to box Clonic Tait, Canadian, lightweight champion, on rounds on November 24 at the local Coliseum.

Football Dance Tonight

The Esquimalt United Junior Football Club is holding a dance this evening in the Rex Theatre. Esquimalt, Bishop's Rainbow orchestra will be on hand to furnish the music and dancing will be from 8:30 to 12:30.

Reed Throws Maurus

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 12.—Robin Reed, Portland welterweight wrestler and ex-amateur Olympic games champion, defeated Johnny Maurus, of Oakland, in a two-hour match here last night. There was only one fall in the match and Reed took that three minutes and twelve seconds before the finish, with a double-arm scissors.

Combination Cup Soccer Matches Will Form Saturday Football Bill

Combination Cup matches will again afford the soccer fans this week-end with three games on the card, as follows: James Island vs. Wests, at James Island; referees McMillan, Esquimalt vs. Sons of England, at Beacon Hill; referees Saunders, United Services vs. Victoria United, at Central Park; referee Atcock.
Two players were on the carpet at this week's meeting of the football association. Armitage, of the Sons of England, was cautioned for playing in the Wednesday League and a warning was issued to all players in the Victoria and District Association that they may not play in this league, and Thomas, of the Wests, was cautioned for "taking hands" to the referee. In future offences of this sort will be severely dealt with.

Edmonton Will Keep Eskimos

EDMONTON, Nov. 12.—Edmonton hockey will keep its professional hockey team this winter. The decision of Manager Ken Mackenzie to keep his Eskimos in Edmonton instead of moving the team to Regina is contingent upon the sum of $18,000 being raised through the advance sale of tickets by noon on Saturday, but as seventy per cent of this amount has already been pledged, the objective is practically certain to be realized.
At an enthusiastic meeting tonight attended by between three and four hundred fans, a boosters' club was formed.

Cougars Speeding East to Montreal

Will Hold First Practice Tomorrow Afternoon in Readiness for First Game Monday

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—Lester Patrick and his Victoria Cougars will arrive in Montreal Saturday morning from the West, according to a telegram received here from the manager of the champions requesting a practice period Saturday afternoon.

The Cougars who took the Stanley Cup from Canadiens last season in the series played at the West Coast, are to play two games at the Forum next week, meeting Montreal Monday night and the Canadiens Wednesday evening. Interest of fans is centering between the centre players, Victorians having the famous Icelandic, Fredrickson, former member of the Winnipeg Falcons, who captured the Olympic hockey title for Canada in 1920. Against him Montreal will have Nelson Stewart, their recruit from the Cleveland amateur team.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—After a week of fast workouts here during which they displayed excellent form, the Victoria Cougars left for Montreal this morning. They play the Montreal team on Monday night and the Canadiens on Wednesday.

Junior Athletic Meeting
There will be a meeting of the Foul Bay Athletic Association this evening at 244 Mills Street, at 8:30 o'clock.

Capablanca Plays Second Draw Game

MOSCOW, Nov. 12.—The second round of the international chess tournament was played yesterday. Jose R. Capablanca, Cuba, the world's champion, drew with Romanovsky, Russia, making the second draw game for the champion, who played against Dr. Lasker in the first round.

Old Country Football

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Cambridge Soccer Union defeated Tottenham, 2-1, today, while in a rugby contest Oxford University defeated Leicester, 27-8.

Both Parties Are Censured by Mr. R. H. Neelands

Draws Parallel of Doukhobors With Vancouver Island Coal Strike Riots of 1913

Print Textbooks in B.C.

Day labor on all Government undertakings, instead of construction by contract, was strongly advocated in the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Mr. Harry Neelands, Labor member for South Vancouver. Mr. Neelands criticised both the major parties in the House, declaring that the only difference between them was that one side was in power and the other in the shades of Opposition. The future well-being of the country rested with the Labor Party, he declared.

In his opening remarks he declared that Labor could take no comfort from anything in the Address of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, for the only suggestions contained in it were those which were advantageous to the exploiters of labor.

Much had been said of freight rates, he said, but the chief arguments used in the fight against discrimination were fallacious.

In connection with the University of British Columbia construction, it was evident, said Mr. Neelands, that there had been a great deal of bungling. If a laborer had been guilty of such mismanagement he would have been accorded harsh treatment. But the Conservatives could not take much comfort from the position of the Government, for in the past when in power, they had similarly bungled matters.

He attacked the contract system of construction, declaring that it was unwise and expensive, and at great length read of the success in Great Britain of building by day labor, insuring general large undertakings that had shown economy by the use of day labor.

Both Inefficient
 The Conservatives were criticizing the Government in connection with the over-commitments on the University building, and members of the treasury benches were retorting that the Liberals were no worse than the Conservatives. Such argument only proved the inefficiency of both sides.

Reference had been made to the condition of the lumber industry, he said, and he quoted from a report in a newspaper of an interview with Mr. Blouet, who owned lumbering interests on both sides of the border. In this interview the lumber operator was alleged to have advocated the conservation of the timber resources of Washington at the expense of those of British Columbia, even to the extent of advising Washington mills to transfer their plants to this side of the line. This was simply another evidence, Mr. Neelands said, that capital did not respect international boundaries.

He would point out that labor in the mills of Washington was paid higher rates of wages than in British Columbia.

Doukhobor Case
 In speaking of the Doukhobor seizure and sale at Grand Forks last April, Mr. Neelands said that the Conservative critics of the Government should recollect the treatment accorded to the miners of Vancouver some years ago when under a Conservative administration. The militia had been called in to the colliery districts. There was a slight difference between the two situations. It was that the Doukhobors had offended against a law, while the miners had simply been seeking to have the laws of the country carried out.

Campaign Funds
 Premier Oliver had spoken of the campaign funds of the Conservatives in the recent Federal election. To his credit, Mr. Neelands went on the speaker, both Conservatives and Liberals had made an indecent exhibition of campaign funds, and he would challenge them to give the public a full accounting of their receipts and expenditures, together with the names of those who had provided campaign funds. The Labor party would do the same, he said.

He was pleased to see the Government had made a start in having textbooks for the schools printed in B.C., and at least one book had been produced in the past year, and this had shown that a saving could be effected. He thought that all the textbooks should be printed in the province.

Motor Insurance
 Mr. Neelands offered a suggestion to the Government. It was that in the congested districts of the province compulsory motor insurance should be made effective. Many persons were injured by motor cars and secured no compensation for their injuries. He thought that premiums for such insurance should be collected when motor licenses were issued.

Promises Not Kept
 In concluding, Mr. Neelands said that quite properly there was a period of two minutes' silence each year in memory of those who had died in the Great War, but he hoped that during that period of silence some portion of it should be given to determination that all should work untidily to prevent a recurrence of another such conflict.

He said that it was too bad that more time was not given to remem-

Belgium, Last Year, Fifth Largest Purchaser of Canadian Goods

Grain and Its Products Are Most Important Requirements—Nation Has Recently Shown Marked Industrial and Commercial Improvement

Taking last year as a basis, Belgium is the fifth largest purchaser of Canadian goods. Under the new treaty signed with Belgium, March of last year, it is probable that the trade between the two countries will continue to expand at an increasing rate, says The Financial Post. Under the terms of the treaty, Belgium is accorded virtually the intermediate tariff rates and is on a similar footing with France and Italy, in trade with Canada.

While grain and its products figure among the most important requirements of Belgium from Canada, we are selling large quantities of manufactured products in that country as well. Belgium purchased Canadian wheat to the extent of more than $10,000,000 last year and $14,000,000 the year before. Berley and oats each accounted for nearly $800,000. Small quantities of rye, flour and oatmeal also figure in the trade statistics. Canadian firms have been developing a fairly important market in Belgium for farm implements. Last year more than $250,000 worth of various classes of these products were sold in Belgium, and this is lower than the figure for some years previous. Automobile products also find a growing market in Belgium. Last year's purchases from us amounted to more than $215,000. Among the other articles sold to the Belgians by Canadian firms are sugar, canned lobsters and canned salmon. Of the last, the total volume purchased from us last year was nearly $300,000 and a much larger quantity the year before.

Improvement Taking Place
 From a standpoint of the future development of our trade with Belgium, it is gratifying to note the gradual commercial and industrial improvement which is taking place there. According to the most recent investigations of the United States Department of Commerce, Belgian industry improved to a marked degree during August and September as a result of the termination of the mechanical construction strike. The better export demand that followed the gradual decline in the exchange value of the Belgian franc, and the seasonal revival in export orders. Important foreign orders have recently been received in mechanical lines. Foreign orders for yarn have increased materially, and there is a much better domestic demand for fabrics. Improvement in the linen industry is also noted. Activity in the plate glass industry has speeded up to about sixty per cent of capacity, and large orders for window glass have been received from the United States and Canada. The financial situation has also shown improvement, especially with larger tax collections. All these factors have an important bearing upon our trade since they concern our fifth largest market.

Population Increasing
 While the recent decline of the franc has been of some advantage in increasing the volume of foreign orders, it is an uncertain factor in business. There has been no little agitation for stabilization somewhere near present levels, but no action is yet being taken. Unlike some of the other European countries, Belgium is increasing in population, and her future development is assured by the thrift and resourcefulness of the people. The total population is less than 8,000,000. Of this total, 1,400,000 are engaged in industrial and 400,000 in agricultural pursuits. The total farm population is in excess of 1,200,000. With the gradual industrial recovery of Europe, Belgium, says The Financial Post, may be expected to take an important place in the world markets. Our trade with Belgium for the past three years was as follows:

| Fiscal Year | Belgian Imports | Belgian Exports |
|-------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| 1923        | $12,327,554    | $4,994,787     |
| 1924        | 17,452,442      | 5,244,772       |
| 1925        | 16,632,411      | 5,061,912       |

COLISEUM Again the Coliseum com-

THEATRE many this week is presenting one of those

London successes that have stood the acid test of a critical London audience and proved acceptable. "The Boy," perhaps better known as Pinner's

"The Magistrate," radiates fun and laughter. There is a bright cabaret scene, in which all the merry songsters in the company keep the ball rolling and bounding with enthusiasm.

George Olsen and Will Marshall team up like a pair of partners of long standing headlining in big-time vaudevilles.

COLUMBIA The multitude of picture

THEATRE patrons who within the last year have become ardent admirers of the wholesome business and dynamic personality of

Fred Thomson will be delighted with his latest production, which was shown at the Columbia Theatre yesterday. "The Wild Bull's Lair" is the title of the most recent Thomson vehicle. The production proves one of the most thrilling and delightful in which the athletic star has ever appeared. "It is well cast throughout, and gives Silver King, Fred's wonder horse, a chance to go through every pace in his large repertoire, both physical and histrionic.

PLAYHOUSE For the first time since

"Merry Go Round,"

the picture which winged Mary Philbin to fame, the little Universal star and Norman

Kerry, also one of those to gain fame in that picture, were in the same cast

while making "Fifth Avenue Models."

Universal Jewel, in which Miss Philbin

starred and which is now showing at the Playhouse, has in it the screen version of "The Best in Life,"

the famous English novel by Muriel

Hine. The picture was given a specular production under Svend Gade's direction.

DOMINATION A trunk load of negative, one more gorgeous than another, is the feature of Miss Murray's wardrobe in

"The Merry Widow," now at the Domination Theatre. One in particular is a tattered suit of black lace, which clings tightly to the figure and features a coat of black georgette and lace collar with ermine. Her modern Merry Widow has in it the stage original. It is of a small cloche shape, with billowy trimming, and promises to actually rival its predecessor of two decades ago.

First National film star, John Philbin, who was yanked from the driver's seat of an auto truck to take the role of heavy in Sills' second starring vehicle, "The Knockout,"

the current attraction at the Capitol

Theatre, wore a "cauliflower" ear for several days that would not to shame many seen on prizefighters after a championship battle. And the "flower" was pinned on Kolb's ear by Sills.

Dr. J. D. MacLean Defends School Survey Report

Educational Questions Occupy Attention of Minister—Critiques Opposition Members' Observations

Printing of Textbooks

Members of the Opposition came to a barrage of verbal shrapnel in the Legislature yesterday when Hon. Dr. MacLean, Minister of Education and Finance, took part in the debate on the King Speech.

Dr. MacLean complained that Opposition members had failed to make a single contribution since the opening of the House that could be termed of constructive value. They had set up a lot of straw men in order that they could have the pleasure of knocking them down again. As an instance, Opposition speakers had made much noise about the length of the sessions, and had said that they were not going to sacrifice the interests of the people merely in order that they could get home early. But nobody, he said, on the Government side had made any suggestion that the time of the session should be curtailed or that the interests of the people should be sacrificed. He believed that seven weeks was sufficient time in which to transact the Province's business, although not much had been accomplished to date so far as the Opposition was concerned. He had been much disappointed in the speeches made by Opposition members, he said, for without exception they had been merely repetitions of campaign speeches made during the recent Federal election. Speakers had not, in his estimation, added anything to the reputations of legislators, and each address had been of the same old "grape-juice" type.

Referring to the report of the Educational Survey Commission, Hon. Dr. MacLean said that while the work had cost $1,000, it had been exceptionally well done. Some of the criticism of the educational system had been directed against the normal schools, but he felt that it had been unduly severe. The normal school staffs were composed of men and women of good character. There would have been some justification in certain of the criticisms in the report if these instructors had been working under ideal conditions and if the commissioners had examined and inspected the work of the normal schools towards the end of the last term as well as at the beginning of the first.

B.C. Trained Teachers

Seventy-eight per cent of the teachers of British Columbia were trained in Provincial normal schools, the speaker said, and the commissioners had reported that, generally speaking, the teachers of British Columbia were satisfactory. Results as shown by the work of the teachers had demonstrated that in spelling, writing, silent reading and arithmetic, British Columbia pupils were superior to those in corresponding grades in United States schools.

Some of the suggestions and recommendations that met with the approval of the commission, will be adopted," Hon. Dr. MacLean added.

"Tough as Steak" Jake Wins Screen Litigation

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Yukon Jake, "tough as a steak," won a $2,500 judgment for his author in Federal Court today. E. E. Patmore, Jr., of Carmel, California, sued Mack Bennett, film producer, for $25,000 damages alleging infringement of copyright of a poem he wrote about Jake's life in the Yukon. Judge William James decided a Ben Turpin comedy released by Bennett under the title, "Yukon Jake," had spoiled Patmore's chance of gaining $2,500 in movie profits from his poem, but no more.

these had since been superseded by books entirely of Canadian or British make.

In the high schools, where sixty textbooks were used, twenty-five were printed in Canada. Twenty-two in Great Britain, two in France, and eleven in the United States. Of this eleven, all but three were French, German and Greek texts, and were used by a very small percentage of the pupils. The three used universally, were West's World Progress, revised and adapted for Canadian use by Professor Mack Eastman, of the University of British Columbia; General Science, and Specimens of the Short Story. There were no good Canadian or British books suited to British Columbia schools which would take the place of the last two named, he said. The books used had been selected by a committee of British Columbia teachers.

Short Skirts Only Modern Fashion To Shock Woman Ruler of India

The Begum of Bhopal, Who Is in London to Learn Ways and Manners of England, Wants Her Granddaughters to Know How to Run House and Cook

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Of all the ultra modernism about the English girls of 1925 only the short skirts are a shock to the orthodox sensibilities of the Begum of Bhopal, the only woman ruler of the 700 potentates of India, who is in London taking in Western civilization through her Mohammedan veil.

The most advanced woman of her race and among the most progressive of the Indian rulers, the Begum, despite her sixty-seven years, has come to London with her son and heir to learn the ways and manners of the land of her suzerain.

Her Royal Highness wants her granddaughters to learn a woman's work but she would not think of sending them to universities. Such institutions are a good place for boys but not for girls.

"I don't think women need to know as much as a man," she added, in dismissing the subject of women's place in the sun.

Servitors Are English
The Begum has established herself in an English mansion in the heart of Mayfair which contains nothing more suggestive of her native land than an Axminster carpet. Her household of thirty-two members are mostly court officials and personal maids, and it is an English butler who opens the pretentious door and a Cockney maid who pours out afternoon tea. The Begum is in purdah all the time, as the laws of her religion demand, and it is only a pair of sparkling eyes that one is permitted to address.

Police Chief Denies Share in Abduction

seventeen-year-old William Robinson that they had seen him on several occasions at the Twenty-Fifth Avenue house prior to the night when Wong was released.

"Why didn't you arrest Robinson?" "I didn't know that he was at that time implicated in the abduction and detention of the Chinaman, and for the reasons Commissioner McDonald gave me on his return from Victoria."

"Why were your arrangements upset because you were unable to get in touch with Robinson that night?" asked Mr. Craig in cross-examination. "Because Jackson was anxious no one should see the Chinaman until he was sent to Oakalla. He said: 'Have him arrested and bring him before the court in the morning, and ask for a remand of one week and send him to Oakalla.' This was all done."

Commissioner Testifies
Police Commissioner H. O. McDonald in the course of his testimony said that he saw the Chinaman for the first time on the night when he was removed from the Twenty-Fifth Avenue house.

"Have you been threatened with regard to the events on April 29, April 30 and May 1?" asked Mr. Henderson. "Yes," by Robinson.

Recalling the witness to his evidence that Wong was arrested at the Twenty-Fifth Avenue house on the night of the removal of the Chinaman to the bush on Marine Drive, Mr. Craig asked:

"If Wong was arrested there what use did you have for Norton? Norton accompanied Wong in the automobile and Norton said that he held the Chinaman until the latter was taken in charge by Chief John Murdoch."

"I can't answer that," said Commissioner McDonald. "I am not sure that he had no explanation to offer for not getting from Robinson some statement to show what Robinson was doing from March 15 to April 29."

Questioned about his interview with Hon. A. M. Manson, witness said that he would be surprised if Mr. Manson, after listening to him, had had him arrested on a charge of complicity in the abduction.

"Did not Mr. Manson say: 'Excuse me, Mr. McDonald, I would like a conference with Mr. Carter,' and when he came back did he not say to you: 'You are speaking to the Attorney-General?'"

"I never heard it," witness said that he did not think that Mr. Manson knew where the Chinaman was.

Robinson, McDonald said, was hired by the commission to investigate the death of Janet Smith and there was no plan made with him to have the Chinaman abducted.

McDonald testified that the first he knew of Wong's abduction was when Robinson told the commissioners that he had the Chinaman.

This was at a meeting in McCraney's house on April 29. It was then decided that McDonald should go to Victoria to see M. B. Jackson on the matter. He left that night, and arriving there, found that Jackson had gone over to Vancouver.

Talks to Attorney-General
McDonald then visited the Attorney-General, who refused to discuss the matter, saying, "I think it would be better if you did not say anything about it to me. I am in a very peculiar position. Go back to Jackson and deal with him."

Before leaving Mr. Manson he was instructed to tell Mr. Jackson that the Government would pay Robinson a reward, the amount of which was to be fixed by Mr. Jackson and McDonald, and this was to be kept as low as possible.

Returning to Vancouver, McDonald met Chief Murdoch and together they went to the Hotel Vancouver. There they saw Mr. Jackson and discussed the release of Wong. After searching for some hours for Robinson, failing to find him, they went to the 25th Avenue house and, accompanied by Norton, took Wong away in an automobile. Wong was arrested and later lodged in the Kerrisdale cells.

Taking the stand, Detective Sergeant Percy Kirkham, one of the three accused, denied that he had ever visited the house in which Wong Foon Sing had been imprisoned, stating that the first time he had seen the Chinaman after his abduction, was when Wong was handed to him by Sergeant Munroe, of the Point Grey police.

The Chinaman was under arrest and was held at the Maple station for about twenty minutes. On the arrival of Chief Murdoch, who had been called in the meantime, Wong

But the Begum is not traveling in state. Quite the contrary, for the representative of The Associated Press who called upon her was taken without ceremony into her private sitting-room and presented to the Begum as she threw aside a piece of highly colored embroidery upon which she had been working.

Short Skirts Disapproved
"I am quite attracted to English girls, but I cannot believe they should go about in such short skirts and without guardians," the Begum told her interviewer. "But I suppose short skirts are the fashion."

The two sons of the Begum have several daughters, and in the rearing of these children the Begum takes a personal interest.

"I want my granddaughters to learn a woman's work," she asserted. "They must learn to run a household, supervise cooking and know needle-work, but I would not think of sending them to university. That's a good place for boys, but not for girls."

Her Royal Highness herself received a part of her education from tutors sent to her parents by the British Government. From them she learned English, French and elementary mathematics. But for other subjects this powerful ruler has a natural dislike.

The heir to the throne, who accompanied his mother, has spent most of his time in driving through the downtown streets and marveling at the shop windows.

was taken to the Kerrisdale headquarters. Crown Cases Case

The Crown closed its case at the morning session after testimony had been given by Police Commissioner H. P. McCraney, of Point Grey; Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly, of the Canadian Detective Agency; David Paterson, former president of the Scottish Society, and Mrs. F. H. Stratton, also connected with the Scottish organization.

"Did you know before Wong was kidnapped that he was going to be kidnapped?" Paterson was asked by Mr. Craig.

J. P. Hogg sought leave to speak on behalf of the witness. "Mr. Hogg, you are appearing as an amicus," pointed out the judge. "Don't presume too much on the friendship."

Mr. Hogg contended that he was entitled to be heard. He stated that witness was at present under a charge.

"I would like—" commenced Paterson. "You would like a lot of things. You are there to answer questions," interposed the judge. "This is not an investigation and is not a spectacle and is a solemn trial."

"If Mr. Manson can come here and make a political speech I want to be able to do the same," exclaimed witness.

Witness Admonished
"Mr. Paterson, restrain yourself," admonished the judge. "I am not concerned with what happened before."

"I want to be able to clear myself," explained witness. "You must not use this as a medium," Mr. Paterson said, the judge. "Hire a hall or start an election."

Mr. Craig's original question was repeated and witness said that he had heard of several plans.

"Did you get that from either of the accused?" "No."

"Did you have any conversation with the accused on that subject?" "No."

Paterson was succeeded on the stand by Mrs. F. H. Stratton. She denied that she had any conversation with any of the accused prior to the abduction about the kidnapping.

Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly testified that three weeks before Wong was released Commissioner McDonald came to the office and held a conversation with Robinson.

She testified that she heard Robinson say: "I don't like your chief's methods. Holding a gun to his head won't get anything out of him."

Commissioner on Stand
"I never discussed with any of the three defendants the subject of kidnapping the Chinaman," testified H. P. McCraney, Point Grey police commissioner, who was the next witness.

In answer to Mr. Craig's question about when he learned what the police commissioners were getting for the money they paid to Robinson, witness stated that it was on April 29 when Robinson reported at a meeting in his, McCraney's house. The meeting was attended, in addition to himself and Robinson, by Steve Paton, Commissioner McDonald and Chief Murdoch, he said. Before the others arrived, Robinson introduced himself, he explained.

Witness said that he was surprised on learning of Wong and he thought that the reason was surprised.

"I remember the chief said we wanted the Chinaman," replied Mr. McCraney. "Robinson said: 'I will not give him to you. Jackson wants the Chinaman and does not want him released.'"

"We were all of the one mind then that the Chinaman should be released at once," he said. "Questioned about conversations with Robinson at the meeting on April 29, Mr. McCraney said: 'I gathered he was expecting his money from the Provincial authorities. He said: 'Somebody has got to pay me $1,000.' I told him he was a fool not to accept $1,000.'"

Witness said that he concluded that Robinson was speaking of M. B. Jackson and that it was Jackson who offered the money.

He explained that Commissioner McDonald was sent to Victoria on the night of April 29 to see Jackson; but McDonald could not find him. He testified that the police commissioners decided that if the Chinaman was not given up the police would go and take him.

Comox Unveils War Column

Is Erected in Memory of 102nd Battalion—Colonel Lister Officers

COURTENAY, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day was observed by everyone here today. At 11 o'clock the creamery hooter announced the hour and heads were bowed in silent thought. Two minutes later the powerful steam whistle broke the silence and work was resumed throughout the city. During the afternoon a large number of people assembled at Comox to witness the unveiling of the war memorial by Col. Lister, D.S.O., late of the 102nd Battalion.

The memorial is an imposing column and has been erected opposite the postoffice. An impressive service commencing with the singing of "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Corker, of Comox, and the Rev. W. T. Beattie, of Courtenay.

Mr. A. W. Nall, M.P. for Comox-Alberni, delivered an interesting address, which was listened to by the intent and solemn assembly. He described the present situation—seven years after the cessation of hostilities—as being one that showed half the world armed to the teeth, and he feared the world had not taken full advantage of the lessons that the World War should have taught. The League of Nations, too, did not yet appear to be the power it was hoped it would have attained, and the hopes of peace had not by any means been fully realized. He feared that all the promises to returned men had not been kept and spoke in a sympathetic way, but "we cannot be heroes all the time," he said.

Colonel Lister told how the 102nd Battalion was one of the best and had always come through with what ever had been expected of it. He had brought back the few of his battalion that had returned to Canada, he said in a voice thick with emotion. A telegraphic message from Colonel Warden was read by Mr. Norman Fritchard.

The singing of the hymns "Onward,"

Christian Soldiers," and "Abide With Me," added solemnity to the occasion. The impressive ceremony came to a close with the sounding of "Last Post" and the singing of "God Save the King." In the evening a large number of ex-service men gathered in Booth's Hall for a reunion supper. Cook-house was sounded at 8 o'clock and rations were drawn at 8:30. Mr. G. W. Stubbs was chairman.

Nanaimo Divorce Granted

NANAIMO, Nov. 12.—Mr. Elmer Wester, of Hornby Island, was yesterday granted an absolute divorce from his wife, Mary Wester, by Mr. Justice Murphy in court here. The co-respondent was Wesley Coburn, logger, also of Hornby Island.

Mr. Wilfred Gibson, photographer, of Victoria, will open a studio here on Monday, November 16, in the new Hall Block. It is the intention of Mr. Gibson to devote Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to his Nanaimo studio, and the rest of his time to the one in Victoria.

Welcome Extended To New Minister

Rev. F. R. Ramsay Arrives at Port Alberni to Occupy Pulpit at St. Alban's

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 12.—A most enjoyable social evening was spent in the church hall of St. Alban's Church Thursday evening, when about 100 members of the congregation gathered to welcome the new minister, the Rev. F. R. Ramsay.

During the last three months this parish has been without an Anglican minister, the Rev. Mr. Bagshaw having resigned in August, services in the meantime having been taken by outside ministers and by Mr. F. H. Steele, of Port Alberni, layman. Mr. Ramsay, accompanied by Mrs. Ramsay, has arrived from Nakusp to assume the duties in this parish and was able to become acquainted with a large number of his parishioners on Thursday.

Mr. Ramsay thanked the congregation for the opportunity of meeting them so pleasantly, and asked for their co-operation in the carrying out of the duties in this parish.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing cards, the winners of prizes being: Ladies' first, Mrs. Toms; consolation, Mrs. Olga Hannay; gentlemen's first, Mr. E. J. Cronk; consolation, Mr. H. Winter. Following the cards a dainty supper was served, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to a musical programme, artists contributing being Miss J. Gardard, Mr. Walker, Mr. Broad, Mr.

Officers Mark Armistice Day

Upper Island Officers' Mess Association Holds Dinner at Qualicum Beach

QUALICUM BEACH, Nov. 11.—The first annual mess dinner of the members of the Upper Island Officers' Mess Association was held Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the dining-room of the Sunset Inn. The mess dinner was carried through strictly according to King's regulations and orders for the army, and a good start was made in the carrying out of its objects. The members of the association, having held the King's commission, will endeavor to carry their leadership by example into civil life and so spread a higher sense of honor wherever they move.

The vice-president of the association, Lieut. C. W. Nash, R.N.V.R., was in the chair and he was ably supported by Lieut. Colin R. Mackenzie, the organizer, and Capt. H. V. R. Page, the honorary secretary, all of Qualicum Beach. There were twenty ex-officers and retired officers present, and they came from Courtenay, Victoria, Cowichan Lake, Nanaimo and Parksville, in addition to a large local contingent. The mess room was decorated with flags, trophies of rifles, and the table with Armistice poppies in large brass cartridge cases cut down. The dinner was well put on by Mr. W. H. Atkins, of the Sunset Inn, who looked after the members very well.

Letters of regret were read from many retired and ex-officers living in various parts of the island. After the dinner a move was made to the lounge, where many camp songs were sung, and in the intervals members looked over the old and torn maps of the "front line trenches" and the days in France were lived over again and the different experiences of Armistice Day were described.

The visiting retired and ex-officers took away with them a higher and stronger desire for service and a wish to hand it on to a few other ex-officers.

Organization Meeting Of Church Is Held

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Nov. 12.—An organization meeting of members of the Anglican Church was held in the hall Tuesday last, the Rev. W. E. Cockshott presiding, and about fifteen being present. Colonel J. Hardley, Wilmet and Mr. E. Millard were appointed to act as people's wardens, and a church committee was formed consisting of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Gilliat, Mrs. W. P. Gooch, Mrs. A. M. Furling and two to be appointed. It was decided that this committee and wardens should hold office until a resident vicar is appointed, and for one month afterwards.

Young People of Brentwood Cleaners' Band Hold Banquet

BRENTWOOD, Nov. 12.—A most enjoyable event was given in the Memorial Baptist Church, Wednesday evening, Armistice Day, when the young people of the Missionary Cleaners' Band held a Thanksgiving banquet. The guests were met at the door by the reception committee and were handed golf bags, by which they were to find their supper partners. When all were seated and a most bounteous repast had been partaken of, the toast of "The King" was proposed by the chairman, Mr. Harry Tanner, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The chairman made a speech welcoming everyone, and was accorded hearty applause. The toast to the Sluggert Memorial Church was proposed by Mr. P. T. Hogg, and replied to by Mr. John Sluggert; solo, "The Willow." Mr. Arthur Petch; a chorus by the Sunday school children; toast to the Missionary Cleaners' Band, proposed by Roy Heyer, replied to by the president, Miss Madeline Sluggert; solo, Mrs. Fraser; toast to the "Ladies," The for-mal part of the proceedings closed with the singing of "Come Ye Thankful People, Come," the remainder of the evening being devoted to games and music.

Memorial Service Held at Cobble Hill

COBBLE HILL, Nov. 12.—The usual memorial service was held at the monument yesterday morning. The opening hymn, "O God Our Help in Age of Past," was sung by the Rev. T. G. Barlow. This was followed by selections from the Scriptures read by Mr. R. C. Walford-Gosnold, lay reader. After singing "O Canada," the two-minute silence was observed. A Scripture reading by the Rev. T. G. Barlow followed, and an appropriate address was given by the Rev. W. E. Cockshott, and the National Anthem. Amongst those present were the pupils of the Cobble Hill public school.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moulton was christened last Sunday at St. John's Church by the Rev. W. E. Cockshott. He received the name of William Harman.

Dance Is Held At Saanichton

BRENTWOOD, Nov. 11.—A jolly dance was given by the Elk Lake Athletic Association on Tuesday evening, in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, this being the first annual ball. A capable committee, headed by Mr. Beals, had worked hard to ensure the success of the undertaking, and their efforts were rewarded by the enjoyment of the dancers. The music was supplied by the Lakeside Serenaders, who were very generous in their efforts, dancing being kept up until the early morning hours. The supper room was in charge of the West Saanich Women's Institute.

The West Saanich Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting in the Institute Hall on Tuesday afternoon. The members decided to contribute towards the prize list of the Potato Fair at New Westminster. The financial statement of the supper room at the Police Hall was read and $100 of this money was voted to the Building Fund. Plans were discussed for the bazaar to be held at the beginning of December, also a dance to be held at an early date. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Aitken and Mrs. Heyworth.

Sidney Personal News

SIDNEY, Nov. 12.—The regular meeting of the North Saanich Social Club was held in the club rooms, School Cross Roads, with a good attendance. There were ten tables of progressive five hundred and several independent tables. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Chandler, while Mr. MacAulay captured the gentlemen's prize. Enjoyable refreshments were served by Mrs. B. Readings and Mrs. Hittaker, after which Mrs. McLean and Mr. R. Brethour supplied excellent music for dancing. The club intends holding a concert on Tuesday, November 24, which promises to be very successful.

A most interesting film was shown at the Auditorium, Sidney, on Tuesday, November 10, under the auspices of the Deep Cove Branch of the Navy League of Canada. This film was taken from the German submarine U-53, during the war, showing the destruction of British and neutral shipping by the submarine. The programme also included a reel dealing with the activities of the Navy League in Canada, and an amusing comedy.

Has Successful Dance

KEATINGE, Nov. 12.—The dance held by the Elk Lake Athletic Association, in the Agricultural Hall, Tuesday evening, proved to be a successful affair, with many visitors from all parts of the peninsula making up a large and jolly crowd of merry-makers.

The Lakeside Serenaders five-piece orchestra supplied excellent music for the dancers and had to respond repeatedly to many encores. Miss K. Griffin and Mr. Beals made very efficient masters of ceremonies. Supper arrangements were in the hands of the West Saanich Women's Institute who proved excellent providers, serving a dainty supper about midnight.

Dancing continued until a late hour, everyone voting the affair a great success.

The electric power is now in use throughout the district. The Temperance Hall, the general store and the fruit depot have all been equipped with the light and many private homes in the district as well.

$1,000,000 Fire Reported
CORINTH, Miss. Nov. 12.—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused by a fire which practically destroyed the plant of the Corinth Compress Company here today and burned about 3,000 bales of cotton, stored in the compress and in railroad cars. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

Annual Armistice Ball at Nanaimo Is Great Success

NANAIMO, Nov. 12.—The annual Armistice ball, held last evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall, under the auspices of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, proved to be one of the season's most pleasing events, and 200 couples attending the ball enjoyed a programme that contained all the latest dance hits and a few old-time melodies, delightfully interspersed by the Veterans' own orchestra.

Entering the ballroom the artistic design of "Flinders' Foggy" en-rolled on the pillars was seen, with the profusion of red, white and blue streamers overhead, and the flag of the Allies, which formed the decorations on the walls. Each flag was allotted a certain space, and the color of each instance was emphasized by paper streamers of the same hue. The "Cookhouse Chili" announced supper, and on three occasions the tables in the ballroom had to be reset. The spirit of Armistice was everywhere, and the constant encores demonstrated the appreciation of the music.

Those responsible for the successful event were Mr. G. A. Carter, president, and the executive of the G. W. V. A.; Mr. F. Carrott, convener of the ball, and the Women's Auxiliary, which had charge of the supper. The floor managers were Messrs. W. Ferguson and F. Dow.

Motor Vehicle Act Offenders Draw Fines

PORT ALBERNI, Nov. 12.—In the police court here this morning before Police Magistrate A. G. Freese, two offenders were convicted of infractions of the Motor Vehicle Act. In the first case, it being a second offence, accused was fined $10, while in the other case a fine of $5 was imposed.

At the city hall application has been received from the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway for a water connection to the local station and round-house. The company intends erecting a water tank here, and in future will purchase its water from the city in place of Alberni, where they have been obtaining it in the past.

In Attempted Rescue Mother and Boy Drown

EDMONTON, Nov. 12.—Answering the call of her five-year-old son Donald, who had fallen in, Mrs. Dorel Shaver hurried out over the thin ice of Pyramid Lake, near Jasper, and went to her death with the boy early Thanksgiving afternoon, according to details reaching here today. At an early hour on Tuesday morning a search party found the bodies of the mother and boy, clasped in each other's arms, lying in the ice-covered water.

Aviators Crash in Snow

BERNE, Nov. 12.—Two Italian military airplanes, returning home from Zurich, crashed into a crag above Splügen Pass in a thick fog. The wings of the machine were torn off and the aviators came down in a mass of newly-fallen snow. Three of the airmen were severely injured, two slightly and two escaped altogether.

Alouette Dam Almost Built

B.C. Electric Proceeds With Great Storage System to Supplement Stave Lake

Alouette Dam, which has been under construction by the B.C. Electric Railway Company for the last year, will be virtually completed by the beginning of December. It will help to store water for supplying Stave Falls power plant, assuring a power supply throughout the winter, says The Vancouver Province.

Two hundred and twenty men are employed by the Pacific Engineers, contractors on the dam. On the dam itself, which is now within five feet of its ultimate height, they have been working night and day all summer and fall. Other gangs are putting the finishing touches on the big concrete spillway, which contains 7,000 cubic yards of concrete.

An Immense Spillway

This spillway is one of the most spectacular portions of the whole work. By it the overflow of Alouette Lake will be diverted at times of high water. Over a wide expanse of concrete—an area big enough for a baseball game—water will flow to a curved wall of concrete, inset with steel controlling gates. When the water reaches a certain height it will flow over the weir crest, making an artificial waterfall, and then down the massive concrete canal to the river channel. Should more water than the weir section can take care of come down the lake, three huge steel gates can be raised, thus safeguarding the dam from any excessive rise of the lake level.

The dam itself is 1,000 feet long, swinging from bank to bank in a huge crescent. Across its crest two railway lines have been run, carrying during construction, trainloads of clay and gravel. Down the railway, which connects the lake with Abernethy & Lougheed's camp, two shovels, one electric and the other steam, are digging gravel to keep concrete mixers busy and dump cars filled.

Men are at work placing the rock which will comprise the facing of the dam—the last stage of its construction. In front of the channel leading to the spillway a curved row of dolphins have been set in concrete to support a heavy boom which will prevent logs floating into the spillway.

Alouette dam will raise the water in the lake forty-five feet. This water will flow through the tunnel which now connects with Stave Lake, helping to drive the Stave Falls plant and operating a plant of 12,500 horsepower at the mouth of the tunnel on Stave Lake, which will be constructed in 1926. The total cost of the Alouette dam will be approximately $500,000, while the whole Alouette development will represent an expenditure of $2,300,000.

Florida Heading for Crash, Says Returned Portland Hotel Man

"No Oil Town or Gold Camp Stampede Ever Had Anything on This Craze," He Declares—Realty Prices Soaring—"Blow-Up" Looked for This Winter

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 12.—Keep away from Florida warns Mr. George M. King, for the "blow-up" is coming this winter. Mr. King, one of the best-known hotel men in the state, has returned here from Florida, where he has been for several months, and he returned with no illusions, albeit admitting that he made expenses and more selling real estate himself, says The Morning Oregonian.

"No oil town or gold camp stampede ever had anything on the Florida craze," said Mr. King. "It is as bad as has been represented. Florida is no place for a poor man or for the 'little fellow.' It is the best place in the United States today to keep away from. The secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce is sending out advertisements telling people not to go to Florida unless they have enough means to keep them for six months."

Rents Enormously High
"A room in the boom towns is $20 a day in a hotel. Apartments cost $120 to $150 a week, and there are two-room apartments. A loaf of bread is 22 cents. A quart of milk is four bits. Fresh eggs are $1.50 a dozen."

"Tampa and Jacksonville are, to my notion, the only two towns which are stable. In town the size of Salem there were 4,300 licensed real estate dealers. No one knows how many there are selling real estate in Miami. The housing conditions are acute. There is a plan of installing 1,500 to 2,000 tents to provide shelter in one town during the winter. Everything is crowded. People are pouring in from every direction, all trying to make money. Few want to work, and the wages are small."

Realty Prices Soaring

"Men sell real estate that they have never seen, from a map. The customer doesn't even see the lot before buying, and he isn't expected to look for it afterward, for the buyer is supposed to sell the property to the next fellow. Each is after a commission."

and prices are soaring. The bust-up is on the way.

"Public utility companies are beginning to wonder if they will get their money back for new improvements before the bubble bursts. The telephone companies are swamped. Out of one office a million messages have been handled. The telephone companies have had to put in new lines and equipment, and the telephone company has done the same. These improvements represent a large investment, and the concern would like to know if they will break even before the smash."

Much Building Under Way

"There is considerable building in places. Take Sibling, for example. It is announced that $3,500,000 of improvements are on the programme. There is building at Tampa and at St. Petersburg and at Sarasota, which is the town of the Klingsmith Brothers' circus."

"When the crash comes there will be a readjustment, of course. Not all the real estate is wild-cattling. Coral Gables, for instance, is financed by a group of millionaires. They are particular about their development. They will not sell unless the purchaser is able to build a house costing $25,000, $45,000 or $75,000, or whatever amount the company says must be built. Any prospective purchaser is taken up to see whether he can go through with the construction before he will be sold property, and he must build according to the requirements and restrictions of the company. Ability to make a first payment down doesn't get you anywhere with this development."

Partial Payments Usual

"Other promotions are not so particular. They are satisfied with the first down payment and if the buyer lapses they are willing to take over the land and sell it over again."

"High prices are rampant everywhere, and everyone is hoping to clean up a fortune at the expense of some-

ZIP-GLO

WONDER PAINT "Sal" at the Crystal Gardens Victoria

THE Crystal Gardens is one of the finest natatoriums on the Pacific Coast. It is a wonderful and charming aquatic playground housed in a vast structure of glass, steel and brick. At the time of its construction, those in charge, demanded a finish for the cement floors, steps and risers that would dry with all possible speed. Zip-Glo was chosen because it possessed all the necessary qualities—chosen because it dries in "30 minutes"—it would be difficult to find a better tribute or testimonial in favor of Zip-Glo.

You, too, should use Zip-Glo—it's a great time-saver. It dries and can be walked upon in 30 minutes. Use Zip-Glo on your kitchen floor—renew your old linoleum with it—a job done in the evening is as dry as a bone at breakfast time.

one else. The community has gone mad. Every day and every hour finds more men and women arriving, looking for a bank roll. Other states are being drained. In Ohio an operator is prohibited from selling land in Florida. Go along Peach Tree Avenue, Atlanta, and you'll find every other store room vacant. There are apartments at your own price.

38,000 Gone From City
"About 38,000 have left Atlanta and gone to Florida. About that number of postoffice addresses have been changed. Think of what it has done to Atlanta banks to have the deposits of nearly 40,000 persons withdrawn. The same thing is going on in other towns, but possibly not to such a noticeable extent."

"The 'little fellows' are being caught and crushed, for unless one is exceedingly fortunate, a little fellow cannot buck the game and come out with a bank roll. Of course, some are making big money, but they are the few on the inside. The average person who goes to Florida with visions of sudden riches is doomed to disappointment."

Former Colleagues Appreciate Late Pilot Terry Mathews

In the course of an appreciation of the late Pilot Officer T. D. C. Mathews, who was educated at the University School, and had relatives here, the October number of The Airman, published at Camp Borden, says:

"In 1920, 'Terry' entered the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario, and from the first he impressed us all with his ability as an athlete and as a class leader. He shone at riding, boxing, shooting, gymnastics and singing, and as a gymnast and shot he finished the first year second to none. In his second year he improved remarkably in all these lines, and turned out with the first rugby squad. Terry started his third year at R.M.C. as the fifth senior of his class, with the rank of corporal, and immediately proved that the staff was justified in selecting him as one of the class executives. He played on the first rugby team, and made a lasting name for himself that year in theatricals, in which he became an artist as well as a comedian. His last year at R.M.C. was, perhaps, his biggest year there, when he assumed the role of 'B' Company commander. In that position the real man came out in him, and he made a lasting reputation as a true company leader, both on parade and in sport. He won the cross-country race, became the best rider in his class, starred on the rugby team as quarter, and led his company to victory in the inter-company championship. Terry Mathews left behind him at R.M.C. a name that will never be forgotten."

"A few months after graduation we found him established in civilian life in the engineering department of the Canadian National Railways, Montreal. He could not keep away from rugby, and played the season with M.A.A.A. in the Big Four. Terry's stay in Montreal was a happy one, and, as usual, he made himself lastingly popular with everyone he met. After nearly a year with the C.N.R., he decided that civilian life was not the place for him, and, as might be expected, he took the first opportunity of joining the Royal Canadian Air Force, making his first appearance at Camp Borden in August of this year."

The reference concludes with a highly appreciative mention of his qualities as "an athlete, soldier and a gentleman."

Battling Her Way Through Terrific Storm Salvage King Rescues Ship From Perilous Circumstances

Desperate Fight Put Up

Bringing to an end one of the most harrowing experiences in the career of Captain W. J. Gray, the Andrew Weir freighter Poleric was towed into port yesterday morning by the Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Salvage King.

Buffeted by cross seas during a terrific storm 500 miles off the west coast of Vancouver Island, the 127,000-bushel grain cargo on board the Poleric shifted, giving the vessel a dangerous list. Huge combers washed over the ship, the starboard rail being under water many times. To add to the vessel's difficulties the steering gear broke on Saturday, and all efforts were concentrated on the trimming of the cargo and repairing of the steering gear. The latter trouble was mended, while the Laacar crew, working under white officers, succeeded in reducing the list by trimming the cargo.

"I haven't much to say, except that I am damn lucky to get back," was the innuendo in which Captain Gray

Westbound Traffic Conference Will Be Held December 7

THE semi-annual westbound steamship conference is to be held at Portland on December 7. It was learned here yesterday. The traffic representatives of conference lines will go over the question of rates. In view of better conditions that have developed in the trans-Pacific shipping during the past few months, increases on some commodities will not be out of line, traffic men say.

greeted a member of The Colonist yesterday morning.

Two casualties were reported as a result of the trouble. Two Laacars, Jamil Hassim and Kurid Meah, were seriously injured while the Poleric labored in the heavy seas. Jamil Hassim sustained a broken thigh, while Kurid Meah had several ribs broken. Both men were rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital on the arrival of the Poleric.

The freighter is now tied up at No. 1 pier at the Outer Wharves, where the cargo will be adjusted before she sails again for Shanghai. In going to the rescue of the Poleric the Salvage King performed a remarkable feat, averaging fourteen knots in the teeth of a southwest gale. On Wednesday an attempt was made to get a line on board the distressed vessel. A light line was shot to the Poleric by means of a rifle and grenade, but it was broken while getting the heavier line on board. The second attempt succeeded and both vessels proceeded to port at a rate of eight knots.

Court Decides Fishing Law

Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs Alone Has Power Inside Reserves

NORTH VANCOUVER, Nov. 12.—A written decision was handed down today in North Vancouver district court by Magistrate Alex Philip in a case of importance in regard to the fishing rights of Indians in waters that flow through Indian reserves and will be appealed.

Dominic Charlie, an Indian of the Squamish Reserve, was charged with "gaffing" two dog salmon in Captain Creek, where it passes through the reserve. Mr. Austin Spencer contended the case on behalf of the Dominion Fisheries Department, contending that exclusive control of fishing in all streams, including those passing through Indian reserves, was vested in the Dominion Fisheries Department.

On the other hand, Indian Agent C. C. Perry submitted that the Indian Act superseded this authority in Indian reserves. It was taken as a test case by the two departments, in order that the point might be settled. The magistrate dismissed the case against the Indian, deciding that under the Indian Act the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs alone had power to regulate fisheries inside Indian reserves.

The Fisheries Department immediately gave notice of appeal.

Tourist Third Class Rates Increased by $15 for Round Trip

MONTREAL, Nov. 12.—Tourist third-class ocean rates on all lines have been increased by $15 for the round trip, or $10 each way, according to an official announcement in steamship circles here today. Ordinary third-class rates remain the same, at $115 for the round trip. The increase brings the tourist third-class rate up to $130.

All companies on the Canadian route will put the increase into effect.

It was also announced that compensation would be made to tourist parties in the form of improvements in cabin and menu.

Aorangi Makes Fast Trip on Antipodes Run

Sails Day Late, Battles With Fierce Storm for Three Days and Arrives One Day Ahead of Schedule

Averages Seventeen Knots

Buffeted by heavy seas during the last three days of her voyage the Canadian-Australasian motorship Aorangi docked from Honolulu at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, one day ahead of schedule.

Sailing one day late from Sydney, due to torrential rain, the Aorangi was the first one on the run up to Suva, and after giving relief to the inhabitants of Hull Island, made an even quicker run to Honolulu, averaging 17.2 knots.

Despite the one day delay at Sydney and the fierce southwest gale the liner bucked on the trip from Honolulu to Victoria, the Aorangi averaged seven knots during the entire trip. The ship still holds the speed record for the Canadian-Australasian run.

A light consignment of cargo was brought North this trip. There was little more than 500 tons of freight, comprising chiefly hides, wool, butter, frozen turkeys, rabbits and mutton, and a small consignment of general freight. At Victoria the ship discharged twenty tons, including 500 cases of butter for transshipment to China by the Empress of Asia.

Three hundred and sixty bags of mail for transshipment to Seattle were put off, together with thirty-seven sacks of mail for Victoria. The passenger list was a light one, comprising ninety first class passengers, sixty-five second class and 100 third class passengers. Twenty saloon passengers departed here.

Baychimo Here After Trip to Frozen North

Is Loading Lumber for United Kingdom—Captain Cornwell Expected to Spend Winter in Arctic

Lady Luck Follows Ship

Getting out of the Arctic wastes by "the skin of her teeth," the staunch little Hudson's Bay trading steamer Baychimo arrived here yesterday morning to load 500,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom. She is expected to leave on Saturday for the trip home.

Captain R. A. Cornwell, skipper of the Baychimo, was very reticent about his experience in the frozen North last summer, but he does admit that it was thought for a time that the ship would not get through and that the winter would have to be spent locked in the closely packed icebergs.

Fog, mirages, faulty soundings and stormy weather played cruel tricks with the steamer during her long voyage, and it was only through a strange turn of fate that she was able to reach here safely, after being imprisoned for twenty-nine days in the ice off Herschel Island.

The Baychimo was caught in the ice late in August. Twelve attempts were made to force a way through without any success. On September 20 some of the crew landed at Herschel Island and saw clear water ahead. The following day the Baychimo made another break for the open and succeeded. Everything went well for four days when an icebergs in length loomed up. The order to reverse was given and the Baychimo just missed crashing her bow into the hard-packed ice, which would probably have meant foundering.

It was then that it was thought that the Baychimo was lost, but at daylight a church steeple was sighted through the haze, which later turned out to be a landmark of the little village of Point Barrow. The Baychimo made port and sailed for Dutch Harbor, where she refueled and made the trip to Vancouver. The vessel also loaded lumber at the terminal port.

Three of the members of the Heno's crew are reported to have been drowned.

The Canadian Raider subsequently continued on her way. It is not known what damage she received, if any.

Business Men Discuss Trade

National Conference of Commercial Heads Will Meet in Winnipeg Next Week

The National Conference of the Boards of Trade of Canada will open in Winnipeg Monday and continue over three days. The Chamber of Commerce will be represented at this gathering, which it is hoped may develop into a permanent organization, by Mr. C. W. P. Schwegler, president of the local body.

Following the close of the conference it is expected that most of the delegates to the gathering will come West, paying visits to the principal cities, including Victoria. United action on the part of the Western cities has been taken to see that the delegates have the opportunity of seeing the centres that are joining in the request which will be made at the meeting.

The conference has had its origin in the effort to bring about among the different parts of the Dominion a more united feeling with respect to trade matters. The meeting of representative business men in conference, it has been felt, would lead to a solution of some of the difficulties that have been encountered in the past.

Vancouver Speakers
Vancouver Board of Trade will be well represented at the meeting, and three of its representative men will deal with subjects of interest during the progress of the conference. Mr. A. M. Dollar, who has taken a deep interest in the bringing about of the meeting, will deal with the subject of "The Pacific-Panama Route." "Imperial Trade Relations" will be introduced by Mr. R. O. Bell-Irving, while Mr. J. K. Burns, formerly of this city but now of Vancouver, will address the gathering on the subject of "Developing Our Foreign Trade (Conference in Canada)." Other speakers at the conference include some of the leading business and financial men of the country. Mr. Thomas White will speak on the subject of "Canada's Present National and Economic Position."

The Eastern Maritime delegates, who have for some time been deeply interested in the utilization of the ports of Canada on the Atlantic to a greater extent than at present, will be heard on the subject of "Utilization of Maritime Provinces Ports." On the same day, Mr. John M. Imrie, of The Edmonton (Alta.) Journal, president of the Edmonton Board of Trade, will introduce the subject, "Immigration and Colonization—the Needs, the Prospects and the Method."

In subsequent sessions the following subjects will be introduced and discussed:

Many Subjects
"H. Lawrence," Waterway Development," introduced by Brig.-General C. H. Mitchell, Toronto Board of Trade.
"Scientific Research in Relation to Industrial and Agricultural Development," introduced by Dr. H. M. Tord, president of the University of Alberta.
"Commercial Arbitration," introduced by Mr. George Henderson, treasurer of the Montreal Board of Trade.

"Customs Regulations for the Prevention of Smuggling," introduced by Mr. Paul Joubert, president of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce.
"National Economy and Taxation," introduced by Mr. Travers Evestman, K.C., past president of the Winnipeg Board of Trade.
"Hudson Bay Railway," introduced by the Saskatoon Board of Trade.
"Federal Taxation of Municipally-Owned Enterprises," introduced by the Montreal Board of Trade.
"Formation of Dominion Board of Trade," introduced by Mr. A. O. Dawson, president of the Montreal Board of Trade.

At the banquet to be tendered the visitors by the Winnipeg Board of Trade, Mr. E. W. Healy, president of the C.P.R., is expected to be the principal speaker.

Addresses to Be Given in Victoria on Public Speaking

A series of addresses on public speaking has been specially arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. to stimulate interest and to give instruction in effective public speaking; to foster debating and literary societies in schools, Y.M.C.A., churches, and other institutions; to demonstrate the power of oral oratory and to give special impetus to the annual oratorical competition on the topic, "The Year's Progress Toward World Peace," inaugurated in public and high schools and Victoria College by the Board of School Trustees, to promote international understanding and goodwill through the study of current history.

The personnel of the speakers assures that the lectures will be entertaining as well as instructive. Musical numbers will also be rendered. The net proceeds will be given to the Y.M.C.A. as an undenominational public service. The series is as follows:
Tuesday, November 24, 8 p.m.—"The Why and How of Public Speaking," Mr. J. B. Warnicker, chairman, Mayor Pendergast.
Tuesday, December 8, 8 p.m.—"This Year's Longest Step Towards International Understanding and Goodwill," Mr. Lindsey Craske, C., chairman; Rt. Rev. Bishop C. D. Schofield, D.D., Tuesday, January 12, 8 p.m.—"How to Debate," Mr. B. C. Nicholas, illustrated by debate between able speakers from Kiwanis and Gypsy Clubs; chairman, Mr. R. W. Mayhew.
Tuesday, January 26, 8 p.m.—"Orators of the Past Who Have Achieved," Dr. W. J. Sippell, chairman, Mr. Ira Dillworth.

Tuesday, February 16, 8 p.m.—"Orators of Our Time Who Have Achieved," Dr. Clem Davies, chairman, Dr. Ernest Hall.
Tuesday, March 2, 8 p.m.—"Your Vocabulary," the Very Rev. C. R. Quainton, M.A., D.D.; chairman, Ald. W. Marchant.
Auditoriums will be announced through the press.

Vancouver to Vote on By-Laws
VANCOUVER, Nov. 12.—The City Council has decided to submit to the ratepayers, at the time of the civic elections in December, money by-laws totalling $1,285,000. The money is required for improvement works and schools.
